HOUSE DEBATES PLAN TO DROP SHORT SESSION

Representatives by No Means Unanimous in Opinions on Eliminating Meeting
FAVORED BY SENATE Amendment Would Avoid Fil-luster Tried With Known Adjournment Date

Washington—Discussion of the proposed amendment to the federal constitution to eliminate the short session of congress and to avoid filibuster has revealed that opinion on this subject in the house is by no means unanimous as it was in the senate.
In fact the amendments suggested by the house are such that they may bring about a considerable debate in the senate when the conference results are brought in. This is because the main idea back of the proposed amendment was to make it possible for congress to begin in January and sit continuously for two years if necessary so that there would be no special point in beginning a filibuster as is now the case, when it is known congress must adjourn on a certain day.

REMOVES 'LAME DUCK'
The proposal being discussed in the house moves the expiration date from March 4 to May 4 for every other year so that a congress goes out of office in May and spends until November in an effort to get re-elected and then the session begins in January. The advantage of this arrangement, of course, as argued by the champions of the resolutions is that the so-called 'lame duck' will be removed from power. A 'lame duck' has been applied to describe members who under the present system are defeated at the polls in November but who take their seats in December of the same year and vote on pending questions and do not leave congress until March 4. Sometimes too, when no special session has been called, the members are defeated in November of a certain year but do not leave until December of the following year.
This lapse of thirteen months is considered a disadvantage because if an issue has been decided in an election, the people do not have an opportunity to have their newly chosen representative vote on that issue for more than a year.

Other changes proposed relate to giving congress further powers to fill vacancies in the event that an election of president is thrown into the house and the term of president and vice president is, it is suggested, should be extended to June 24 instead of March 4.
ONE POINT DIFFICULT
With the exception of the point about the limitation of the session of congress in the even years so that it will end on May 4, the senate is not likely to disagree to the changes proposed. But the whole crux of the situation with respect to filibusters is wrapped up in that point, though it is quite possible that the advocates of the resolution may find it necessary to yield on this, too, in order to get the amendment submitted to the states for ratification, something they have for many years been trying to accomplish.

WANT ENEMY MURDERED? FIVE PESOS IN MEXICO

Mexico City—(AP)—A price of only five pesos for a murder, which modest figures attracted a considerable attention, was charged by Gregorio Sanchez, a professional assassin, who has just been wounded and captured near Chihuahua in the state of Puebla.
A dispatch to El Excelsior says Sanchez had no occupation except as-sination and was ready to kill anybody at any time provided the five pesos were forthcoming. He had enough customers to enable him to earn a good living.
The police said they found in his pocket a sheet of papers half filled with names of persons he had assassinated. The dispatches neglect to give any total.

the Supreme court, Thursday celebrated his eighty-seventh birthday out of his familiar harness, the flowing robe ings of the court of which he has been a member for more than 25 years.

BRITISH LINE UP FOR BATTLE WITH ARABIAN

Mobilize Frontier Forces to Turn Back Attacks of Wahabi Tribes

London—(AP)—British preparations for war in Arabia continued ap-pace Thursday. Men, armored cars, tanks and airplanes were being mobilized along the border of Transjordan to turn back any attack by Wahabi tribesmen under Ibn Saud.

A dispatch from Jaffa, told of preparations being made by British authorities in Palestine.
The frontier force was being mobilized. All officers and men were recalled from leave. An armored car company left Ramleh, Palestine, for Amman, Palestine, Wednesday. Several airplanes came understood to be carrying 20 men passed over Jaffa Tuesday enroute from Egypt to Amman.

TRIBES PREPARED

Advices received at Basra said that the Afghan and other Wahabi tribes which have been united in the border warfare have received rifles, ammunition, food and tents from Ibn Saud.
In Egypt, Sarwat Pasha resigned as premier when his attempts to negotiate an Anglo-Egyptian alliance failed. The result was confusion. This was increased when the British government handed Egypt a stern note saying in effect that full independence would not be granted that country at present.

DAMAGE HOME OF MAN WHO 'CHANGED MIND' hurled through the window of the

NO MORE 'RED' IN DEMOCRATS' FUND LEDGER

Debts Are All Paid and Party Sees $250,000 More for Approaching Campaign

Washington—(AP)—Democratic party finances were out of red ink Thursday for the first time since the presidential campaign of 1924 and approximately $250,000 was in sight with which to begin initial combat with the Republicans for honors in the next November elections.

Announcement to this effect by the Democratic national committee coincided with word that Secretary Hoover considered making a decision Thursday whether he would enter the Indiana primaries against Senator Watson.

The Democratic financial report, made to Chairman Clem Shaver by Jesse H. Jones, the national committee's financial director, showed contributions and pledges totaling $588, 500, enough to wipe out the entire indebtedness incurred during the last campaign and leave perhaps a quarter of a million dollars for use in the next.

WATCH HOOVER

The Republican political spotlight Thursday switched to a little office on the seventh floor of the commerce department. Herbert Hoover, its head, had until midnight to make up his mind whether to enter the Indiana primary lists to contest for that state's delegates to the Kansas City convention.

Supporters of the secretary, who has been reluctant to enter Indiana unless there was evident enough strength to warrant it, were busy in the northern countries of the state Thursday obtaining signatures to petitions to forward to the convention.

Watson's name was the only one appearing on the Indiana Republican lists early Thursday, although Hoover managers had predicted that former governor Frank O. Lowden would file his name if the cabinet officer did, making it a three-cornered race.

Report Reed To Speak In State Cities

Democratic Presidential Candidate Includes Appleton in Tour Next Week

Milwaukee—(AP)—Attorney A. J.
Schnitz of Milwaukee was the authority for the statement Thursday that Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, seeking preferment of Wisconsin Democrats as the presidential nominee, would visit the state next week for several speeches.

He was making tentative arrangements for meetings in Madison, Appleton, Racine, Kenosha, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Milwaukee. But whether the meetings would be held was contingent. Mr. Schnitz made clear on definite word that the Missouri Senator would fill the engagements.

Senator Reed had previously announced he would pay a visit to Madison but said at Kansas City that he had not contemplated making speeches in Wisconsin.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR SLAYER OF MOTHER

Ohio Youth Shot Parent for Scolding When He Missed School

BULLETIN
St. Clairsville, Ohio—(AP)—Andy Dyken, 15-year-old slayer of his mother who was sentenced to life imprisonment, attempted to commit suicide by hanging himself in his cell shortly after he was taken from the court room Thursday.

Guards overpowered him when they found him fastening his belt around his neck. Sheriff T. C. Hardesty revealed it was the second attempt by the boy to take his life in the last 24 hours. A piece of steel which he had taken from his cot sharpened to a fine edge, was taken from him Wednesday night.

St. Clairsville, Ohio—(AP)—Andy
Dyken, 15, slayer of his mother, pleaded guilty to second degree murder Thursday and was sentenced to life imprisonment at hard labor in the Ohio penitentiary.

The evening of Dec. 6, 1927, Dyken shot his mother to death as she stood in the doorway of their farm home, and when his father, Nick Dyken, and a farmer had attempted to wrench
the shotgun from him, shot him.

Dyken appeared pleased with the outcome. He said he was looking forward to the automobile ride from St.
Clairsville to Columbus, and told newspapermen "all he wanted was good clothes and plenty of cigarettes."

tions of President Coolidge but retaining the controversial equalization fee, was reported favorably to the Senate
Thursday by Chairman McNary, Ore-son, for the agriculture committee.

USE $600,000 TO DOMINATE ALIEN PRESS

Former Grain Magnate Helps Probers Trace Continental Oil Company Bonds

Washington—(AP)—The Senate Today Dome committee Thursday again stalked the Liberty bonds of the Continental Trading Co. and while uncovering no startling new use to which these bonds were put, it developed that prominent Republicans in 1919 had paid out or assumed obligations amounting to $600,000 for the American Association of Foreign Language newspapers. The organization was supposed to have great influence with foreign language publications.

James A. Patten, retired Chicago grain operator, William V. Hodges, treasurer of the Republican National committee, and M. J. Pessin of New York, were the principal witnesses.
From Patten the committee learned that $25,000 of the Continental bonds given to the committee by Harry E.
Sinclair had been turned over to him to be disposed of. Hodges furnished names of contributors to the party campaign chest, including a small contribution by Robert W. Stewart, who objected to answer senate questions about the Continental bonds.

Miami Beach, Fla.—(AP)—Rumors that the heavyweight boxing champion of the world had made formal surrender to romance Thursday remained simply rumors, neither confirmed nor denied.

Reporters had quizzed Gene Tunney and piled with questions his rumored finances, Miss Caroline Bishop, of Beverly Hills, Cal., but the best they could earn with either was a draw.

Miss Bishop admitted she found the ring king "one of the most admirable of my age." Mr. Tunney confessed he believed the California girl

CHANGE PLANS IN MERGER OF STEEL COMPANIES

Youngstown, O.—(AP)—The proposed merger of Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. and Inland Steel Co. renegotiated recently has been called off, it was announced here Thursday by James A. Campbell president of Sheet and Tube company.

The ironic statement by Mr. Campbell said merely that the parties to the merger had been unable to agree.
Thursday's revelation that the merger had failed, after having apparently been successfully negotiated, was believed to account for recent heavy selling of both Sheet and Tube and Inland on the New York stock exchange. On selling, Sheet and Tube Chicago brokers, Sheet and Tube fell from 95 to 85 1/2 in the last two weeks.

LEWIS ACCUSES RAILROADS OF HURTING WAGES

Coal Union Leader Says Roads Conspire to Depress Miners' Salaries

Washington—(AP)—Continuing his scorching indictment of the bitum-enous coal industry, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers Thursday attributed conditions in the coal field to a conspiracy among the roads to depress miners' wages, in his testimony before the senate In-dustrie Commerce committee.

Lewis submitted to Chairman Watson, for the record, an original copy of the Jacksonville wage agreement between miners and operators, saying:

"This is the contract which was violated, abrogated and tampered with by the Pittsburgh Coal Co. and others in that region."
The union leader also entered statistics of declines in coal prices paid by railroads, which he said was a result of the "railroads' campaign to depress wages as well."

Lewis painted a picture of "pauper-ous conditions" among miners in Pennsylvania and West Virginia fields, citing the "company stores" as places where miners' wives often saw the money earned by their husbands as fast as it was made. In the West Virginia field he said wages have stood beside the place where coal is hoisted to wait until a landmine by their husbands or sons comes up, so that credit for the work might be entered on the record.

"They then go to the store and spend those wages for beans and bacon and coffee," he added.
Lewis said that W. G. Woodson, chairman of the board of directors of the Pittsburgh Coal Co. had told him in 1923 that he wanted to make a good record of his salary and get a wage way to do it was to get a wage reduction, which action, Lewis said, meant "to extort from the wages of miners additional profits for the pit-sburgh Coal Co."

The said Woodson told him R. B.
Mason had had a "bad year in 1924" and that he wanted to make up for that after having been newly elected chairman of the board.

Denial of Lewis' charges was made by C. E. Lester, vice president of the Pittsburgh Coal Co.

Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, asked Lester what he had stock in the Pittsburgh Coal Co., but the witness said he was unfamiliar with those records. He assumed the contract that he would put the records at his disposal.

Replying to Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, Lester said coal sold at the curb in trucks brought about $5.00 per ton and mine run grades at the mine sold for the railroads for about $2 per ton. Senator Wagner thought the price was $1.90. Senator Wagner had Lester explain what handling operations caused the large differences in price.

Madison—(AP)—The surtax ques-

In the senate, a bill to transfer funds in the amount of $750,000 to the

made to the board for other purposes was introduced by W. L. Smith, Neillsville.

Assemblyman Reis' bill provides for a surtax on incomes in excess of $3-

one-twelfth of the rates now in force for income taxes.

COUNCIL HESITATES TO ASK COUNTY TO PAVE HIGHWAY HERE

Bout Committee Is Appointed to See What Can Be Done About Wisconsin-ave

The city of Appleton would like to ask the county board of supervisors to appropriate enough money to pave Wisconsin-ave from N. Meade-st. to N. Lemnaw-st. next summer but previous experiences with the board have caused the aldermen to be a bit timid about asking for help. It was indicated Wednesday night at a meeting of the city council, Alderman Phillip Vogt presented the resolution asking the council to go on record as petitioning the county board to appropriate funds for the project.

The street between these two corners is part of the county highway and although the county will have to pave the road sometime the council wants the stretch paved this year. The city will pave all of Wisconsin-ave from Richmond-st. east to the corner of Meade-st. The result of the discussion was that a committee composed of Mayor Rule, Aldermen Vander Heyden and Vogt was appointed to approach the county board at the April session of that body.

Appointment of C. T. Mace as a member of the board of education was approved by the council. Mr. Mace will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of William Eggert and will serve until April, 1930.

Bids for fire fighting equipment were referred to the fire and water committee for tabulation. Prices on 1,500 feet of hose ranged from $5 cents a foot to $1.30 and on 1,000-gallon pumps from $12,000 to $13,250. Bids on the pump to be placed on a truck now in service ranged from $1,000 to $4,650 and on deluge sets will cost $250 and upward.

J. J. Plank, secretary of the water commission addressed the council for a few minutes with reference to water mains the city intended to lay this year. He said the commission had received a good offer for pipe and if it knew the exact amount to be installed purchase could be made immediately and delivery made to the streets on which the pipe will be laid. It was suggested that the fire and water committee meet with the water commission and discuss the matter.

Class A permits were issued to Floyd Coon to conduct a soft drink parlor at 906 N. Oneida-st. and to conduct a similar place on N. Mason-st. The petition of William Frederick, S. Kernan-ave, was laid over pending action of the ordinance committee on placing his district in the local business district.

City officials were instructed to sign a release on the receipt of $88.76, freeing Swift and company from any further suits for damage caused to one of the city's fire trucks recently. The city attorney was also ordered to defend Detective Sergeant John Duval in a suit for false arrest and imprisonment.

A communication from the county board asking permission to widen Elm-st. east of the court house so that the site might be used as a parking space, was read. The board has already appropriated $1,000 for the work and asked permission to go ahead with the job. A remonstrance against the proposition also was presented to the council and the whole matter was referred to the street and bridge committee.

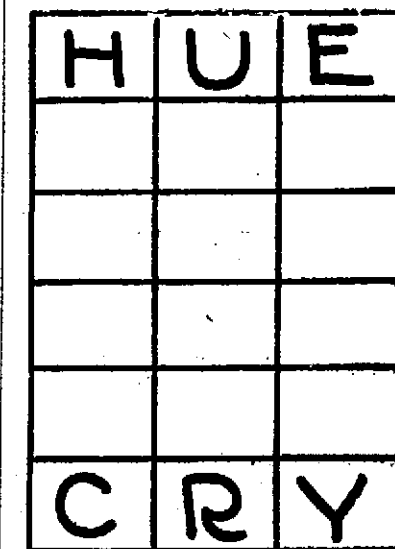

The city engineer was ordered to investigate and report on storm sewer extension in the fifth ward. Sewer plans for Carpenter-st. from S. River-st. to the Fox river were approved and the clerk instructed to advertise for bids. Nothing was done of the Water-st. and Wisconsin-ave paving jobs pending assessment of benefits and damages against abutting property.

F. E. Jastad, Eau Claire, was in the city Wednesday and Thursday. He was on his way home after attending the National Education association convention in Boston.

LETTER GOLF

A NOISY ONE

Some people can raise a HUE and CRY in one breath, but in letter golf, according to par, it's a five-word jump from one to the other. Perhaps you can beat the solution printed on page 12.

THE RULES

1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change Cow to Hen, in three strokes, COW; HOW; HEW; HEN.

2—You can change only one letter of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.

3—You must have a complete word, at a time.

NEIGHBORHOOD ROW AIRED FOR COUNCIL

Communication Charges City Building Inspector "Played Favorites"

A neighborhood quarrel and charges of favoritism on the part of the building inspector, John Welland, were tossed into the meeting of the common council committee of the whole Wednesday night when Alderman Phillip Vogt read a communication purported to have been written by J. Greenspoon, 536 W. Wisconsin-ave, protesting construction of a garage floor by Mrs. N. Chudacoff, 420 W. Wisconsin-ave, and charging the building inspector with favoritism.

The communication stated that the building inspector had prohibited construction of an enclosed porch because it violated the zoning ordinance but had permitted construction work on the Chudacoff property, which it was alleged, will result in violation of the same ordinance.

The building inspector was called before the committee to explain and told the council that to the best of his knowledge the work being done on the Chudacoff property was in express agreement with the permit issued. If the floor of the garage in question was being relaid with wood so that the building could be used as a warehouse in violation of the zoning ordinance, he had no knowledge of it and could not prefer charges until actual violation had taken place. The history of the quarrel between the two parties was recalled for the committee and the matter dropped following instruction to the building inspector to watch for developments.

GRANGE ASKS CITY'S HELP TO BUILD HALL

President Schaefer Presents Organization's Problem to
C. of C. Committee

George R. Schaefer, president of the South Greenville Grange, met with members of the chamber of commerce rural affairs committee Wednesday afternoon and urged support for the new grange hall in South Greenville. The present hall was moved to make way for a highway change.

He said that residents in the town did their trading in Appleton, Neenah and Menasha and he thought that the merchants of the three cities should extend financial help to build the structure which is to cost $25,000.

Literature telling of the work of the grange, its history and the proposed uses for the hall have been sent Appleton business men and a campaign for funds will start soon.

One of the diamonds in the selection weighed three karats and was of an especially brilliant hue. Mr. Jongelings, a representative of the Hallmark Diamond Merchants, was secured through the efforts of Mr.

FOREMEN TOLD HOW SCIENCE MEASURES ACCIDENT CHANCES

University of Wisconsin Psychologist Explains Scientific Tests

Scientific Methods of Measuring Accidents in Workmen were discussed by Prof. Clark Hull of the University of Wisconsin before about 300 persons at the regular weekly meeting of the Foreman's Safety school at the Con-way hotel Wednesday evening. He is director of the Vocational school and chairman of the meeting in the absence of H. G. Noyes, pulp and paper instructor for state vocational schools.

The speaker was introduced by A. S. MacArthur of the Kimberly-Clark company.

TRICK SENSES
Examples of how a man's senses will trick him in believing things that are not so were revealed to the gathering. The first test was with a flag of which certain colors on which the men were asked to concentrate. When the flag was withdrawn from their view practically all of the men still could see the flag. The group also was told of an experiment in which several persons were blind-folded and given pipes with electric heating attachments and all but one in group thought he was smoking.

Prof. Clark also went on to show the results of test made by scientists working at the request of the British labor union which revealed that accidents may result from trivial psychological factors and conditions under which work is done. The directors of the school have decided to write the English labor union and obtain a copy of the findings.

The importance of psychological tests in determining the ability of a man were shown in reports of street car and cab companies. Picking motormen and drivers by tests has resulted in cutting down accidents and expenses.

TEST ALL WORKMEN
Prof. Clark also stated that in the next few years industry will have reached a point where two day tests will determine just what a man can do and cannot do with reference to the job he wishes to undertake.

The foremen voted to ask the University of Wisconsin to release Prof. Clark and several of his assistants so they might carry out their program in this section in the next three or four years. Tests would be made of men employed in valley manufacturing companies and the information be available to employers and to scientists.

The final meeting of the safety school will be held Wednesday, March 21 with a fish fry dinner at the Con-way hotel. D. D. Finner, Chicago, a leader in accident prevention work will be the speaker. Certificates will be awarded the men who have successfully completed the course at that time.

COUNTRY ROADS STILL IMPASSABLE TO CARS

Only three rural mail carriers at the Appleton post office are able to use automobiles in covering their routes. The rest of the carriers use sleighs because the side roads are blocked by snow.

"Although the farmers try to keep the roads open, most of the work is not done in a systematic manner," one of the carriers said. "If they would start plowing immediately after a storm, and if they would make wide lanes their work would be much more effective. At present, however, the farmers usually wait a day or two after a storm before they start plowing the roads. By that time the snow is packed. Then they clear only a narrow lane and when the wind blows these lanes fill very quickly."

Lenten Service
The mid-week Lenten service will be held at 7:30 Thursday evening at Trinity English Lutheran church. The third of the series of Letters to the Churches will form the basis of the sermon. The choir of the church will meet for rehearsal after the service.

OSTEOPATHS ATTEND OSHKOSH CONVENTION

Dr. Russell Beckham, Chicago College of Osteopathy will attend the convention and hold a clinic. A dinner at Hotel Athearn and election of officers for the ensuing year will complete the program.

BLAST IN FURNACE SETS FIRE TO OLD FRAME STRUCTURE

Building Occupied by Anton Wagner's Garage Ruined by Fire Wednesday Night

Fire which threatened the business houses on the north side of W. College-ave about 7 o'clock Wednesday evening caused damage to the Anton Wagner garage, 216-318 W. College-ave, estimated at from $5,000 to $10,000.

The blaze started from an explosion in a coal furnace setting the entire room afire. Peter Oudenhoven, a mechanic at work in the building, turned in the fire alarm.

Quick work by the fire department, which responded to the alarm with two pump-trucks and the hook and ladder outfit, prevented the fire from spreading into adjoining frame buildings.

The firemen had the fire under control a few minutes after they arrived, but they remained on the job for an hour and a half before the equipment returned to the barns. The premises were under police guard all night.

"If the fire had had a few minutes more start Appleton might have experienced another disastrous fire," fire Chief George P. McGillan said Thursday morning. "The district is made up almost entirely of frame buildings and if the fire had broken through it might have cleaned out the block."

The building is owned by John Sigl, 312 W. College-ave. The loss to the building was estimated at about $5,000, none of which is covered by insurance.

The loss to Mr. Wagner consisting mostly of tools and automotive repair equipment probably won't exceed $1,000. Three or four cars in the building also were destroyed with a loss of from $2,500 to $4,000.

APPEAL BAKERY CASE TO SUPREME COURT

City Will Continue Fight on Horse Barn, Aldermen Decide

An appeal to the supreme court will be taken by the city of Appleton in the Service Bakery horse barn litigation. It was decided at a meeting of the city council Wednesday evening. The appeal will be taken in an effort to have the court reverse the decision of Judge Edgar V. Werner that the board of appeals, established under the zoning ordinance, has no right to deny the bakery company a permit to build a horse barn on its property on W. College-ave. Construction of the barn has already started, it is said.

Several months ago the bakery company was granted a permit by the building inspector to build a seven stable horse barn on property on W. College-ave. Residents in the section objected and the board of appeals withdrew the permit. A writ of certiorari was obtained instructing the board to submit copies of all proceedings to the judge of circuit court. The judge decided that the board had no right to refuse the permit under the zoning ordinance and the bakery company began construction of the building.

Judge Werner recently granted the city permission to appeal to a higher court.

BRITISHER TRIES FLIGHT TO INDIA

Hinchcliffe Will Not Cross Atlantic Yet, His Wife Says

London—(AP)—Mrs. Walter G. R. Hinchcliffe Thursday said that her husband, Captain Hinchcliffe, had no intention of flying to the United States at least until he had made a trip to India.

She said that Captain Hinchcliffe with a friend, Captain Gordon Sinclair, who is a reserve air force pilot, is now at Cranwell getting an American Stinson plane in trim for a flight to India when weather conditions are favorable. She said he would not take off this week.

The Honorable Elsie Mackay intended to fly across the Atlantic with Captain Walter G. R. Hinchcliffe, weather conditions Thursday were regarded as unfavorable for such a feat.

The Daily Express said that Miss Mackay, who is the third daughter of Viscount Inchcape, shipowner, and Captain Hinchcliffe planned to start from Cranwell Airbase, Lincolnshire, in an American Stinson monoplane. Miss Mackay is a licensed pilot and the couple intended to reach Newfoundland Friday afternoon, the Express said.

The British Press Association and the Exchange Telegraph later said that they had been authoritatively informed that the report that Miss Mackay intended to fly was entirely without foundation.

Miss Mackay participated in the trial flights of the plane, christened "Adventure," and has some financial interest in the projected east to west transatlantic air voyage. She is personally acquainted with Hinchcliffe and was said to be at the airbase merely as an interested spectator. The airbase authorities said

Thursday morning that weather conditions all around were unfavorable and any chance of a flight starting Thursday was slim.

RISKED PNEUMONIA NEGLECTING COLD

Congestion Spread From Nose Passages Down to His Chest—Then He Called Doctor
RELIEVED QUICKLY BY NOVEL HOME METHOD

Numbers of Appleton people have found it no longer necessary to neglect a cold because of expense, inconvenience or the need of medicines unpleasant to take. For physicians are now recommending for home use an inexpensive and pleasant method that brings quick, sure relief—often in a few hours.

Theo H. Wicks' case is typical. He had neglected his cold, hoping each day it would "cure itself." Instead, it got worse, spreading from his nose passages down towards his lungs. Fearing pneumonia then he called his doctor, who gave him double doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral—a concentrated mixture of wild cherry, turpentine and other ingredients used in treating even the most extreme hospital cases.

Relief began with the first pleasant swallow. He felt its comforting, healing warmth—from his nose passages deep down into his chest. That night he could breathe freely through both nostrils and coughed very little. The next morning he felt like a different person—rid of the "feverish, grippy" feeling—and in another day or so, the doctor reports, he was free from all traces of the cold.

Note: See other cases reported daily—all certified to this paper by the attending physician.

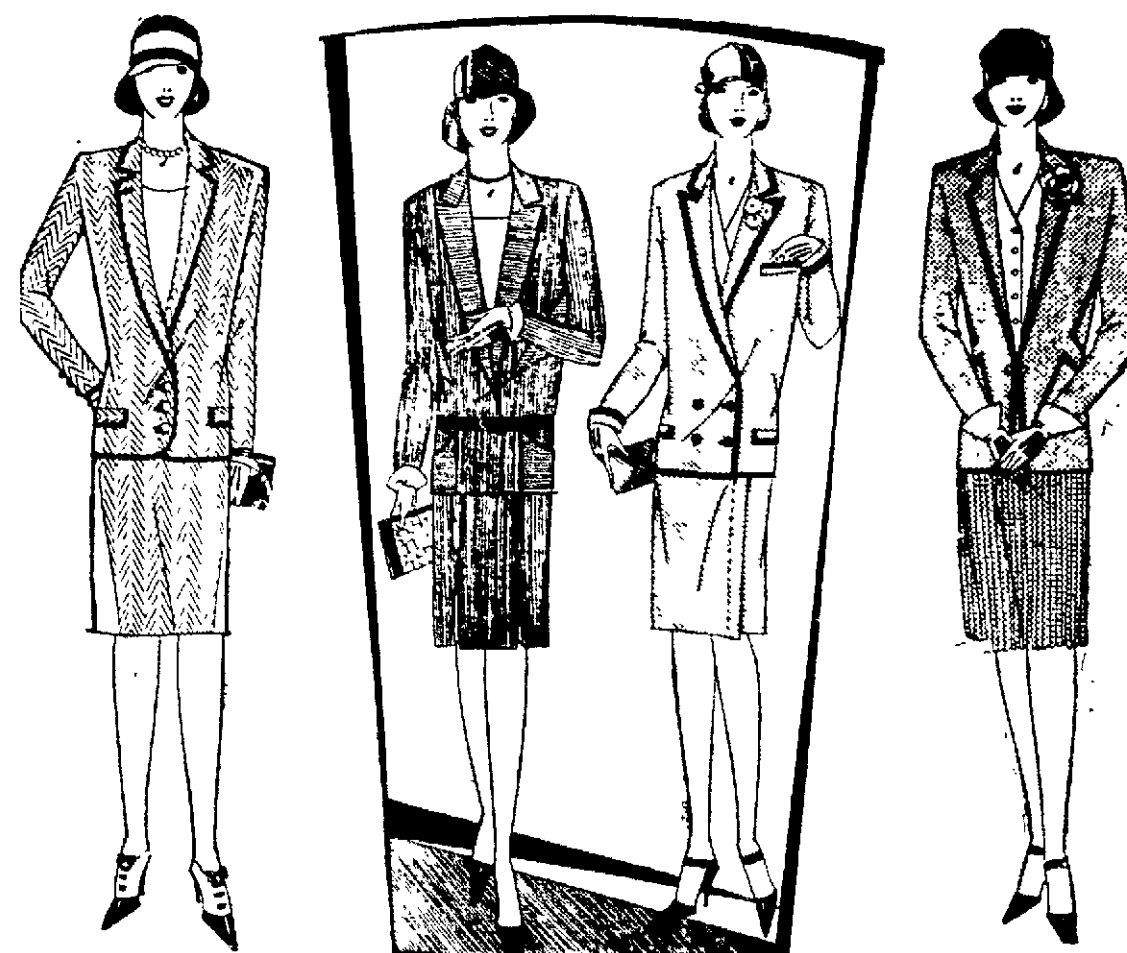

Doctors find that this hospital medicine does far more than stop coughing instantly. It penetrates and heals inflamed linings of the breathing passages. Absorbed by the system it quickly relieves phlegm, helps allay that "feverish, grippy" feeling and drives out the cold from the nose passages, throat and chest.

Just a few pleasant spoonfuls of Cherry Pectoral now and you'll feel like a different person tomorrow. Endorsed by Schmitt Bros. and all druggists, 60¢, twice as much in $1.00 hospital size.

STATE OFFICIALS TO SEEK FIRE HAZARDS

Officials from Industrial Commission and Fire Marshals Office Coming

Neenah—Officials of both the state industrial commission and fire marshals office will be here next Wednesday to assist in observing Fire Prevention day as arranged by Kiwanis and Rotary clubs in connection with the schools, insurance companies and the fire department.

How To Play Bridge

By Milton C. Work

Yesterday the following problem was given: The contract is Spades: South is Declarer, North is Dummy; the initial lead is shown. How should Declarer operate his twenty-six cards:

Declarer, planning his campaign, can see that he will not lose any trumps or any Clubs, but he may lose to the two red Kings and he must lose Closed Hand's small Heart unless he can discard it. His only chance to obtain a discard is to establish Dummy's Diamonds and he therefore plans to do that if possible. He sees that he must be careful to win trick 1 in the Closed Hand so as to keep the Queen of Clubs as an entry in Dummy. Then he plays as follows:

Trick 1, he will lead one of his trump honors from Closed Hand, taking with the Ace in Dummy; following which he will lead a small Diamond from Dummy Hand. If the finesse should win, his plan would be to lead the Ace of Diamonds from Closed Hand (trick 4), then (trick 5) the Seven of Spades, putting Dummy in with the Nine, which would be followed by a third round of Diamonds (trick 6) which would be trumped in the Closed Hand. If the adverse Diamonds fall, Declarer's scheme will have worked. He can draw the adverse trumps if they are divided 3-3 or 4-2 (a 5-1 division is so improbable that it need not be considered), put Dummy in with Queen of Clubs, and cash two Diamonds, discarding thereon the Queen and Seven of Hearts.

If the Diamond finesse (trick 3) should lose and Clubs be continued, Declarer's plan would be to win the second Club in the Closed Hand and to develop the hand along the same lines, trying in that case for the Small Slam. In either event, if the adverse Diamonds do not break, the Declarer will have the Queen of Clubs left in the Dummy as an entry to enable him to try the Heart finesse if at that time it be advisable to do so.

THE POT BEGINS TO BOIL

When Italy and Austria signed a peace pact some nine years ago Austria was divested of certain territory which was attached to Italy, the inhabitants of which territory are of Teutonic blood, speak the German language and should never have been forced into the sovereignty of the Italian monarch without their consent. Situations such as this foment trouble, trouble that will not down, trouble that lasts through generations and centuries, growing greater every day. The situation is no different than that which once attached to Poland; dismembered as it was by Prussia, Austria and Russia, kept under an iron heel, subjected to every effort to throttle its nationalism. The plan did not work. It failed even at a time when sterner and harsher methods prevailed than now. The same situation concerned Alsace-Lorraine, a territory that has been banded back and forth between warring factions for centuries, but French people could not be made German and German people cannot be made French. The same sort of situation inspired the muddled-headed assassin of Sarajevo who shot the Austrian Grand Duke and his wife and whose deed precipitated the World War. The inhabitants of the Austrian Tyrol do not want the Italian language, the Italian government, Italian newspapers, Italian ideals, any more than the English or the Irish want them or any more than the Italians want German nationalism. When laws are enacted to force nationalism upon a people, clashes are bound to occur. It is a favorite pastime for Italian politicians to blame the resentment of the residents of Austrian Tyrol, their resistance to Italian repressive measures, upon the government at Vienna. Mussolini, rising in the chamber of deputies at Rome the other day, said: "This is the last time I shall speak on the Tyrol question; next time it will be deeds." What can be meant by such a statement excepting war? Such an expression only serves to make a bad situation worse, is but fuel for the angry flames of fire. It would not be uttered by a statesman. Threats are the common expressions of fire brands.

There is little wonder that Austria longs for union with the stronger state of Germany. Dismembered as it has been it could not stand alone against Italy. Others, before Italy, have longed for "der tag". They got it. If the Italians can read history they may easily learn what to expect if this sort of a situation is kept up.

GENEROUS AUTHOR

Thomas Hardy, the English novelist and poet, left in his will a request that his complete poems, the favorite work of his latter years, should be published "at a reasonable price, so as to be within the reach of the poorer readers."

This attitude is calculated to warm the hearts of many readers. Not that there is any overwhelming demand for Hardy's poems. But the practice of poets nowadays—aided and abetted by their publishers—is to publish little dabs of poetry in many separate volumes, so that any particular poem is hard to find, and their complete works cost almost enough to stock a small library, until after the copyright has expired. Anyone who ever tried to buy poems in the author's lifetime knows how that is.

Mark Twain tried to make this situation still worse by persistently demanding a perpetual copyright for books. All books which are, or should be, popular ought to be sold in cheaper editions for those who want them, as in Europe. Our publishing business is very slow to see the merit of cheap quantity production.

UNEMPLOYMENT SURVEY

Unemployment has reached a point where it is thought sufficiently serious to warrant an investigation by federal agency. An investigation of unemployment in the continental United States by the secretary of labor was proposed in a resolution introduced by Senator Wagner, Democrat, of New York, the secretary to report to the senate. The intention is to inaugurate more definite legislation for the relief of the unemployment situation.

Employment is known to be considerably below that at the same period last year. Reports throughout the country indicate this in varying degrees. When it is known just how serious the situation is it can then be determined what measures of relief should be introduced.

DOYLE ON IMMORTALITY

Most of us are probably glad to see anyone combatting Thomas A. Edison's statement that the chances of a future life for mankind are only "fifty-fifty." Whether Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's answer is as convincing as he thinks is another question.

Edison, says Doyle, is "not in touch with the evidence." So the British author and spiritualist picks one case, from hundreds, to overwhelm Edison's doubt. It is the case of a young friend named Duncombe, a chum of his own sons, killed in a motor accident a few months ago. Young Denis Doyle recently began to suspect that Duncombe was trying to get in touch with him. So Denis went to a well known medium, giving her no name and telling her nothing.

The medium, Sir Arthur reports, went into an apparent trance and "young Duncombe at once came through," greeting Denis by name and referring to other friends. "He described the accident minutely, drawing a diagram with the medium's hand, and he commented upon the evidence of the inquest. He remarked upon a physical weakness which in life had made dancing difficult, and said that he was quite free from that now. He referred to a new racing car which my sons had bought, showed keen interest in it and chaffed them about it. He mentioned that one of the gang even when in evening dress carried a small spanner in his pocket. In fact, if the boy had been in the chair instead of the entranced woman he could not have talked more freely of all that was of mutual interest."

Now this may be all true, and yet anyone acquainted with well known facts of modern psychology may say, "What of it?" That last sentence of Sir Arthur's is illuminating in a way he seems not to realize. "If the boy had been in the chair instead of the entranced woman!" The psychologist may reply, "Perhaps the boy was in that chair—by proxy."

Thought transference is pretty well proved in man, birds and animals. The modern scientific theory would be that the medium simply dug all that stuff, perhaps unknowingly, out of the sitter's subconscious mind, without any supernatural operation. If we are to prove immortality we must do it in some other way.

INVENTIONS

It is a familiar experience of inventors to find that ideas and devices they have worked out and supposed original with them are really old. Still, there are some surprises for the public about many of our modern improvements. The pneumatic tire, as shown by British records, was invented in 1845, and a fountain pen was patented in 1809. Roller skates were invented in 1823. There are said to have been safety razors as long ago as 1762. There was a "loud-speaker" in England in 1671, although it probably bore little resemblance to present models.

These and many other devices were of little use, and therefore little heard of, at the time they were produced, because the world was not ready for them. The pneumatic tire, for instance, had to wait for good roads. Many wonderful inventions have doubtless failed for lack of manufacturing skill.

Now Senator Fess tells the Senate he was only speaking to the correspondents when he told them Coolidge was angry with him about that draft talk. Senator Fess probably is the first senator who ever lied to newspaper men.

Judging from the talk going around it hasn't been decided finally whether the Democrats will convene in Houston, Houston or Houston.

YES, YOU HAVE RHINITIS

Chronic, that is prolonged, low-grade inflammation of the lining membrane of the nose chambers is what I mean when I say rhinitis. Some of the old timers used to call rhinitis to signify acute inflammation in the nasal lining, that is more generally known as coryza nowadays. Chronic rhinitis is perhaps second only to dental caries (tooth decay, cavity) in range of occurrence among civilized people. As indicated in a previous talk, chronic rhinitis accounts for a great deal of the popular misconception of the cold, the change of temperature, the sneezing, etc., may make one ill. Most of our old time doctors and present health commissioners who still uphold the popular misconception are incapable of recognizing or diagnosing chronic rhinitis in any case, and perhaps that explains why I have very little respect for their views and teachings about this vital question of hygiene. Too many of these old fogies get by on just intuition in lieu of diagnostic ability. But Mr. Barnum was right. The average victim of chronic rhinitis likes to have his doctor imply that it is a little catarrhal condition, a joke a doctor never cracks if he has taken a peep into the patient's nasal cavity.

One drawback about having chronic rhinitis is that we distinguish and classify rhinitis as to type, and the successful treatment depends upon a nice distinction of the particular variety the patient happens to have. Maybe a certain amount of benefit may be given by a blind treatment for chronic rhinitis regardless of the type of trouble in the particular case. If the patient wants lasting relief it is essential that the doctor determine the type of rhinitis he has to deal with. Simple chronic rhinitis responds to treatment which would be scarcely sufficient in chronic hypertrophic rhinitis, and remedies that do good in chronic hypertrophic rhinitis are likely to do harm in chronic atrophic rhinitis. Then there is the occasional chronic hyperesthetic rhinitis requiring entirely different management from any of the other types, and the intense chronic rhinitis, which is something else again. Ozena is still another form demanding still another treatment—ozena is from a Greek word meaning stench. Chronic purulent rhinitis constitutes a distinct challenge to the diagnostic acumen and therapeutic resources of the physician.

This recital by no means covers the field. I merely mention some of the familiar types of chronic rhinitis in order to impress the reader with the importance of this extremely common and oft neglected condition, and to warn victims of chronic rhinitis against the free and easy practice of many physicians in dismissing such patients with some worthless spray or other inadequate advice.

In view of the excessive prevalence of respiratory infections—illness from this class of diseases is responsible for three-fourths of the routine practice of physicians everywhere—I believe that the physician who fails to give his patient a proper nose and throat examination and the special treatment the individual condition demands is unworthy of confidence. This amounts to condemnation of a lot of successful doctors, but as we go along you will see, I hope, that I mean it.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Spend Your Penny

Come, come, now, pay old Mike Murphy used to say, when we kids deliberated long at the choice of candy, come, now, say what you want, spend your penny, and get out.

Sometimes I think we could give much more satisfaction to correspondents if they'd only put the question right off the bat without preliminary recitals of history, amenities, etc.

Is one cup of coffee a day too much for anyone to drink? Is it safe to drink two or three cups of tea a day? (Mrs. S. A. F.)

Answer—Most adults may take one or two cups of coffee and one or two cups of tea daily, with advantage. Certain invalids, and all children, are better without these beverages.

Fruits and Stones

Nothing you comment about fruits and kidney stone, may I ask whether orange, lemon, grapefruit juices are harmful or beneficial in gallstone trouble? Is olive oil beneficial? (W. M. F.)

In one of your answers you said orange and other acid fruits are rather beneficial in cases of kidney stone or stone in bladder, but you made no reference to gallstones. Does this imply that the acid fruits should not be eaten if one has gallstones? (Mrs. S. E.)

Answer—In the answer referred to I did say that such fruits are as a rule beneficial for one with kidney or bladder stone or so called gravel, and I added that this had no reference to gallstones. Have to keep things shaved down to fit available space. By this answer I meant to imply that these acid fruits tend to make the blood more alkaline and the urine less acid and to prevent the formation of stones in the urinary tract. But the formation of stones in the bile tract is an entirely different thing and so far as I know the acid fruits have no bearing on it one way or the other. Perhaps such fruits tend to keep the bile thin and are therefore desirable in the diet of one with gallstones or a tendency toward such trouble. Olive oil has no effect on gallstones.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Thursday, March 12, 1903
Samuel Compers, president of the American Federation of Labor, appeared before the Senate the previous day to protest against compulsory arbitration between laborers and employers.

Plumbers in England received $10.50 a week. The United States had 200,000 miles of railways. The Lawrence debate teams were debating the question "Resolved, that the government should own and control the railroads." It was expected that the teams would go to Madison to the historical library there to prepare further for their coming debates.

Mrs. Elizabeth Muench was surprised by a group of friends in honor of her birthday anniversary the previous day.

Two hundred cases of grip were reported in the city and doctors reported that names were being added to the list daily. Unnatural weather conditions were blamed.

TEN YEARS AGO

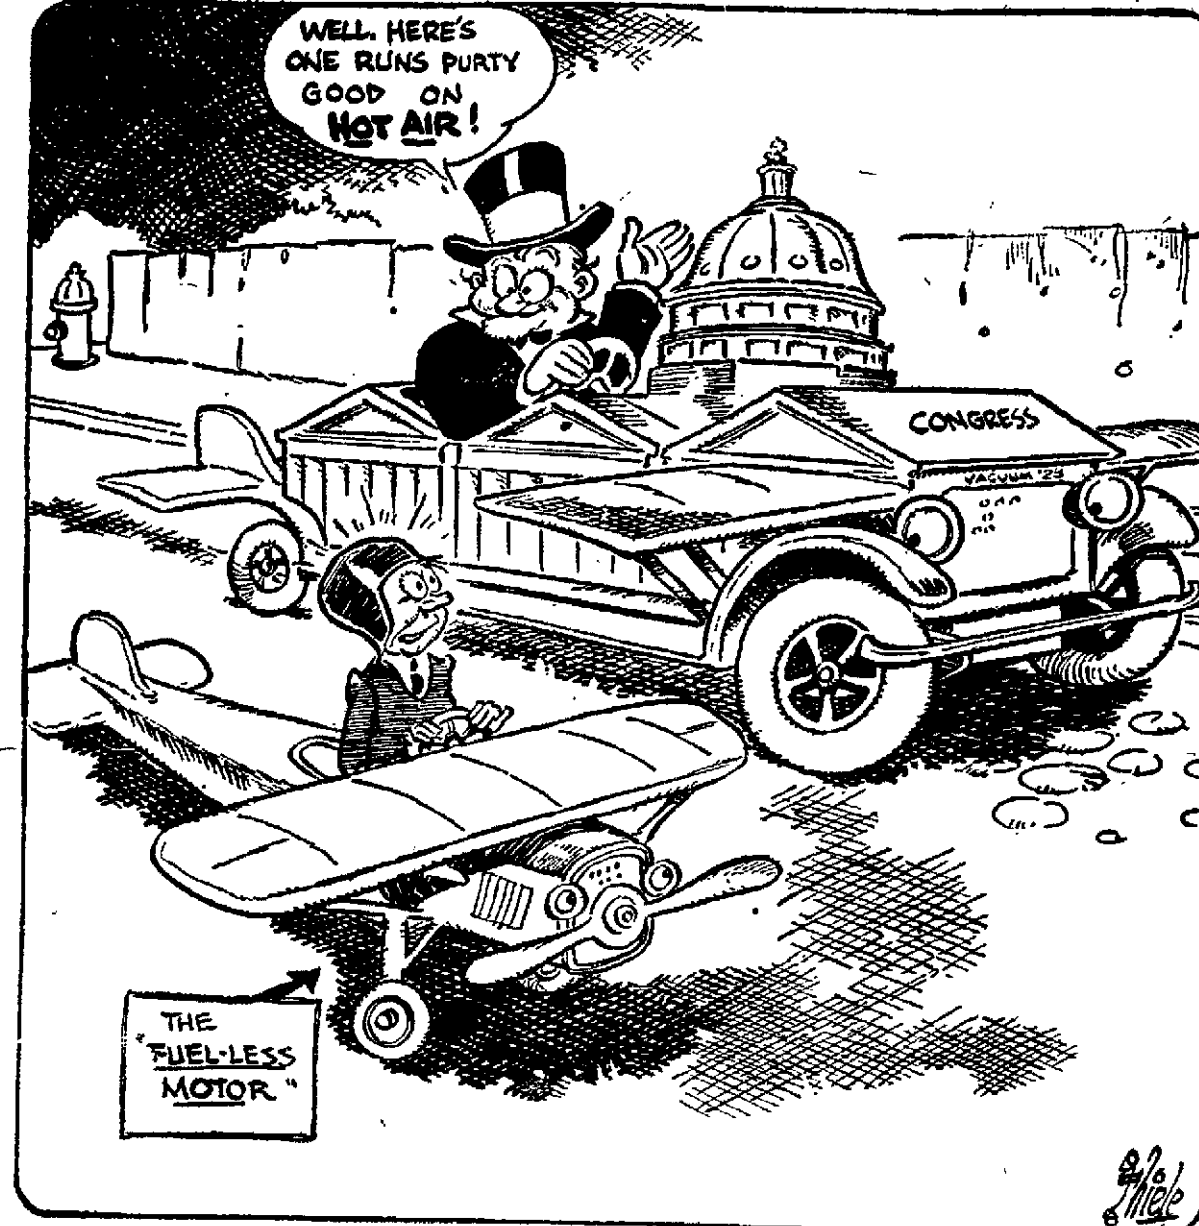

Thursday, March 7, 1918
Germans had executed 200 Russian citizens and had thrown the bodies in the river. The Senate had been asked to notify Germany that if such outrages continued 160 barons and land owners held as hostages by the Russians would be executed.

Japan intervention in Siberia had been halted by the position of the United States. No troops were sent and Tokio officials were giving the questions of America careful consideration.

Thirty three births were recorded in the month of February and there were thirteen deaths. Only six marriages were registered during the month. Silk thread was to be raised in price from ten cents a spool to thirteen cents. Muslims which formerly cost five and six cents a yard were selling for twenty two cents wholesale.

Miss Lorena Williams, 1021 Appleton st., entertained a group of young people the previous evening. Those present were Miss Clara Lemke, Miss Irma Williams, Miss Edna and Miss Amanda Frank, Raymond Shuttart, Ralph Gehring, Anna Wallischlager, Harold Peterson and Herbert Doran.

HASKIN WRITES TODAY

AGE AND THE PRESIDENCY

Washington, D. C. — At the present stage of the 1928 campaign one of the most widely debated questions is that as to how old a man has to be before he is too old to be considered as a candidate for the Presidency.

The dispute not only engages the friends and supporters of the various presidential aspirants of both parties, but likewise great numbers of men who are getting along in years but maintain that a man is never too old to run for any office as long as he can run at all.

The issue was precipitated several months ago when former Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes announced that he regarded himself as too old to make the race. That aroused considerable discussion at the time, but it died down quickly. Recently it has been revived.

Reasons for the revival are that as the presidential contests wax warmer every argument is being brought forward that can be used pro and con. In a few of the rival camps that there is an unusually large number of what might be called "aged horses" in the 1928 national handicap.

A compilation by one of these expert figurers reveals the somewhat surprising fact that whereas the average age at time of inauguration of the twenty-nine men who have been Presidents of the United States was 52.6 years, the average age, at the time of the next inauguration, of the fifteen men who are the leading Republican and Democratic candidates for the presidential nominations of 1928 is slightly above 61 years.

Another authority fixes the average inauguration age of President Coolidge and his predecessors at 54.3 years, but whether that figure is to be accepted as correct, or the possibly puritan one of 52.6 years, the difference between the average age of Presidents who have been and that of the gentlemen who now would be President is a bit startling. It is evident, also, that there are several public men who, with their friends, will hold the Hughes idea as to when a man becomes too old to hold down the White House job.

WHERE HUGHES DREW THE LINE

Charles E. Hughes will be 66 years old at the time of the next inauguration, and will attain his 67th birthday within a few weeks thereafter. While he did not say it, it may be assumed that he draws the line of presidential availability at about 65 years. Having served 8 years, Mr. Hughes would be almost 75 years of age.

Now of the fifteen men who are most talked of in connection with the presidential nominations of their parties, eight will be over 60 years of age at the time of the next inauguration.

DAILY HINTS FOR HEALTH

NOSE BLEED MAY RESULT FROM NUMEROUS CAUSES

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor of the American Medical Association, Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Bleeding from the nose is a fairly frequent condition. It occurs not only as the result of a direct blow, but also from variety of causes associated with its structure.

Sometimes inflammation may attack the vessels, sometimes there may be varicose veins in the nose that will burst, sometimes a little ulceration develops a crust and violet blowing or picking at the crust result in hemorrhage.

DISEASE OR LOCAL CAUSE
Not infrequently bleeding from the nose is associated with such diseases as inflammation of the kidneys, hardening of the arteries or tumors in the head. If the condition is due to some local cause such as an ulcer or a scratch, the bleeding will probably stop of itself after it is temporarily controlled.

The simplest measure to aid the stopping of the bleeding is the placing of the patient in a recumbent position, preferably with the face down. The application of ice water or of hot water to the nose or the temporary packing of the nose with sterilized clean gauze will help.

Any superstitious measure, such as ice applied to the back of the neck, a cold key hung down the back, the inhaling of smoke, or similar procedures are likely merely to be a nuisance without giving any help.

EXAMINING THE BLOOD
If a person bleeds continuously, an examination of the blood should be made to find out if there is a delayed coagulation time. An investigation may also be made to find out whether the person happens to belong to one of the families known as bleeders, in which coagulation of the blood occurs only with great difficulty.

There is no way to strengthen the blood vessels so as to prevent hemorrhages, but a competent nose and throat specialist will be able to look into the nose and to find out whether a cauterization of the vessel, a strengthening of the septum, or some similar procedure is necessary to control an anatomical defect.

See-Sawing On Broadway

New York—Those fabulous old publicity tales, which our grandfathers swallowed and passed around the drum stove in the country store, no longer elick.

No longer does anyone believe of the actress whose $50,000 string of pearls was stolen. The last elaborate stunt—a girl in a tub of wine at a theatrical party—sent a Broadway producer to prison. They have fallen back on beautiful dancers who attempt suicide or prominent personages who contemplate marriage. Because they smack of truth, these still fool even the very cautious news-papers.

But time was when the hoaxes were dressed in more colorful raiment. A beauty of the theatre was pictured as drinking champagne from the toe of her golden slipper—and some there are who think, thanks to these still dangerous tales, that such grand old customs still obtain.

Anna Held became a most spectacular figure thanks to the interest aroused over her milk baths. She announced that unless she bathed daily in milk her complexion would be in danger of total eclipse. Gaby Deslys fairly wallowed in the creations of fertile imaginations. After linking her name with various royal gents, both real and fictitious, she came to figure in a real life drama. But, when she arrived in America, she brought with her a beaded hen and announced that she had to have fresh eggs daily from a hand-picked fowl.

Of course Peggy Joyce didn't have to fabricate. The circumstances of life built her up as an alluring and mysterious figure. One marriage after another, with romances on the side, made her a national figure. And it is said of Texas Guinan that she has been as permanently established in the national spotlight as the Ford car.

Broadway may boast of its stars and its popular idols, but the true idolatry of New York is to be found in the various sections.

Thus there is no individual in the whole length and breadth of the "big stem" who can match one-two-three with the popularity of Molly Picon, the theatrical favorite from the East Side. When Molly goes on, they come in their cars from the Bronx and from over the Manhattan bridge.

In the Bronx there has been for years a little Yiddish theater which housed the favorite and its daughters of that neighborhood's drama. From this establishment have been produced many an artist who later became Broadway's proud boast. Not the least of these were the Schildkrauts—father and son.

DISTURBANCE AT CONCERTS

Editor Post-Crescent—Just a question. When our military band goes to the expense, trouble, and time to give us a very fine concert, as it did March fifth, and then takes pains to make it more interesting by having artists from the Conservatory, all busy people, sing and play for us, to have a crowd of High School students, and grade, sit and talk and talk, disturbing the ones who do want to listen, is it fair?

SPEAKER URGES NURSES TO JOIN ASSOCIATION

The value of the alumni district, state and national organization of nurses was the keynote of the talk given by Miss Cornelia van Kooy, director of the state bureau of public nursing at the regular meeting of the Sixth District nurses Wednesday afternoon at St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac. About 80 persons attended.

The individual nurse not only enriches her knowledge but the individuals with whom she comes in contact in her profession are benefited, according to Miss van Kooy. She develops leadership qualities if she attends and takes part in the meetings; she becomes known to members of her profession and it becomes easier for her to obtain a position through contracts made at meetings of the organization.

Miss van Kooy especially urged the younger nurses to take part in the programs given at the meetings because every organization needs "new blood." The contact is beneficial to the nurses and to the profession. Robert Neiler and his doll Isadore, entertained with a ventriloquist act.

New Hair Mode from Broadway

"Everyone admires my hair, now that I'm doing it the new way that nearly every really smart girl I know is using," says Miss Agnes Traney, popular dancer, now appearing in the Broadway hit, "Rio Rita." "My hair doesn't need shampooing more than once a month, now. My scalp feels better than it ever has felt. I have gotten rid of all my dandruff. My hair is much easier to arrange, and it stays that way. All I do to keep it like this is put a few dashes of Danderine on my brush every time I use it. It's wonderful how Danderine adds to the beauty of your hair, makes it look so silky and lustrous."

Danderine is not oily. It removes the oily film from each strand of hair and restores the natural color and lustre. It dissolves dandruff, cleanses and invigorates the scalp. It is delightfully fragrant. The big bottles are just 35c at all drug stores. Beautiful smooth, gleaming hair and a healthy scalp for a few cents. adv.

STRONG TEAM FOR BASEBALL SEASON

Kaukauna Gets Berth in Valley League and Begins Preparing for Hot Campaign

Kaukauna—Les Smith of Combined Locks, one of the valley's star baseball players, again will manage the Kaukauna Baseball club, John Cooper, president of the club, said Wednesday. Smith, a very good outfielder besides being a relief hurler, is lining up this year's squad. Preparations are being made for putting a much stronger team in the field this year than has represented Kaukauna during the past few years.

Kaukauna again is a member of the Fox River Valley Baseball league. The league will be a six team circuit, one berth less than last year, and the teams already in are Appleton, Kimberly-Little Chute, Green Bay, Neenah-Menasha and Kaukauna. Ford of Kaukauna is a member of the sixth member of the league although Manitowoc, Oconto and several other cities have asked for franchises. A schedule of twenty games to be played on Sundays and holidays will be carried out. Under this plan every team will meet every other team when the season is in all probability will be the sixth member of the league although Manitowoc, Oconto and several other cities have asked for franchises. A schedule of twenty games to be played on Sundays and holidays will be carried out. The Kaws finished in the cellar in the seven team circuit last year. Most of the regulars who worked out with the last summer will be back again in addition to several new members. Efforts will be made to have a winning team from the opening of the league season.

MORNING TRAIN TO STOP AT KAUKAUNA

Protest to Railroad Commission Gets Quick Action from Northwestern Line

Kaukauna—Officials of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad company have notified Otto A. Fiedler, local road agent, that taking effect at once Northwestern train No. 206 will stop on flag at Kaukauna. It will arrive at Kaukauna at 6:51 in the morning.

Train No. 206 originally stopped at Kaukauna at 7:17 in the morning but Kaukauna was omitted as a stop when the time was changed to a half hour earlier. This action brought numerous complaints from the townspeople which culminated in a protest on Wednesday to the state railroad commission by Mayor W. C. Sullivan who maintained that the road was taking away the only morning train to Chicago. No action has been taken by the railroad in sending train No. 102 back over its old route through Kaukauna, Appleton and Oshkosh. The train now is routed over the Lake Shore division through Manitowoc and Sheboygan. Before the change was made train No. 102 stopped on flag at Kaukauna at 1:52 in the morning.

Reports that train No. 153 on the south side will return to its old schedule are without foundation, Mr. Fiedler said. This northbound train for Antigo will continue to arrive in the city at 6:30 in the evening.

Social Items

Kaukauna—The Ladies Aid society of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church met at the Lutheran school building on Wednesday afternoon. Hostesses were Mrs. J. Gertz, Mrs. Hugo Gehl, Mrs. W. Greene and Mrs. Edward Grebe.

Those who will make the trip are Leonard Macorrie, Walter Kilgas, Ray Posson, Harold Frank, Milton Engstrom, Robert Elosem, Sylvester Dix and Jules Schommer.

Sixteen teams from the valley have entered the tournament and on Friday evening four games will be played on the Y. M. C. A. floor and a similar number on the Community club floor.

KAWS CONFIDENT AS TEAM WINS 1ST GAME

Coach McAndrews Figures Team Has Started After Season of Defeats

Kaukauna—Kaukauna High school students were happy on Wednesday following the basketball team's first win of the season in an elimination game with Kiel at Menasha Tuesday evening. The students are confident of an Orange win over Clintonville in the final Northeastern Wisconsin conference game at that city on Friday evening.

Plans are being made for sending a large rooting section to the district tournament at Menasha on March 15, 16 and 17. Many students are inclined to believe that the squad will win a couple of the tournament games before being eliminated.

Coach Harry McAndrews and his team are confident that a good game can be played against any of the teams now entered in the tournament. Outside services have proclaimed Kaukauna to be one of the fastest teams in the "Little Fifteen" and have warned other squads to watch out if the Kaws get started. It is apparent that the team has finally "got started" for the squad had an easy time whipping Kiel.

STUDENTS MAKE ANOTHER PERFECT BANKING RECORD

Kaukauna—Tuesday was another 100 per cent banking day for Kaukauna high school. It was the fourth consecutive time that every student in the school made a deposit in the school bank, and was the nineteenth consecutive time that the junior class had a perfect mark. The class continues to lead the thrift race with the standings as follows: Juniors, 60½ points; seniors, 54½ points; sophomores and freshmen, 52½ points. Amounts deposited by each class were seniors, $21.81; juniors, $14.92; sophomores, $20.23 and freshmen, $21.57.

PULPWOOD SHIPMENTS EXTENDED THRU SUMMER

Kaukauna—Pulpwood shipments to mills in this part of the Fox river valley have fallen off quite a bit during the past week. Otto A. Fiedler, local agent for the Chicago and Northwestern railroad, said that a change has been made in the manner of shipping pulpwood this year and that instead of sending it all down to the valley in six or eight weeks it will be spread out during the entire summer. Rumors that bad snow storms in the north have held back the shipments of logs have been denied by road officials.

Stomach Bad 35 Yrs. —Feels Fine Now

"I suffered with indigestion and stomach gas for 35 years. Since the first dose of Adlerika, I have not been troubled a minute."—D. Carlisle.

The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, saline, etc. (known as Adlerika), has a most surprising DOUBLED action. First, it acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only) and removes food matter that often poisons the system for months. Second, Adlerika clears all GAS and sourness from stomach and bowels, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And in addition, Adlerika removes metabolic poisons which cause neuritis, rheumatism, etc.

SOCIAL WORKERS TO MEET AT MADISON

Prominent Speakers Scheduled to Make Address at Convention Friday

Milwaukee—(P)—Discussion of plans to "make Wisconsin safe for childhood" will occupy the attention of the children's code executive committee of the Wisconsin Conference of social work at its meetings here Friday.

Among those scheduled to speak before the meeting are Judge James Hill of Sauk County, and W. Frank Persons, Milwaukee, formerly director of the home service section of the Red Cross in Washington, D. C. Judge Hill has been asked by the conference to express his views on the plans to protect dependent and neglected children.

"The number of people volunteering all over the state to take part in the work is amazing," Mrs. J. William Cross, chairman of the executive committee states. "We are very fortunate in being able to obtain as chairman of one of the sub-committees, Dr. John A. Lapp, formerly president of the National Conference of Social Work, and now in the sociology department of Marquette University."

All classes and interests—employers, laboring men, workers, religious leaders, educators—are represented on either the general committee, or on the sub-committees dealing with child welfare, according to Aubrey Williams, general secretary of the conference.

The sub-committees are concerned with education, boarding homes and child caring institutions, child placement and adoption, illegitimacy and state aid, as well as with organization and information.

Members of the executive committee which will meet in Milwaukee Friday are Mrs. J. William Cross, Milwaukee, chairman; C. W. Areson, secretary; Miss Edith E. Johnson, director of the Milwaukee School of Social Work; Miss Elizabeth Yerxa, director of the juvenile department of the state board of control; Prof. J. L. Gullin, University of Wisconsin, Madison; H. H. Jacobs, University settlement house, Milwaukee; the Rev. M. J. McEvoy, director of the Catholic Social Welfare bureau, Milwaukee; Assemblyman Alvin C. Reis, Madison; Prof. J. H. Kolb, University of Wisconsin; W. Frank Persons, Milwaukee; Aubrey W. Williams, Madison.

UNIVERSITY CONTINUES TO TEST BIRD FLIGHT

Madison—(P)—The old saying that "birds of a feather flock together" will be tested again this year by the University of Wisconsin.

Experiments with banding migratory birds and then releasing them, to see whether they will be together when they come up from the south in the spring, have tended to show that "gang" life is often a tendency.

The work, under the direction of Prof. George Wagner, will begin March 15 this year. With the coming of spring Prof. Wagner and student assistants will observe traces they can find of the return to the university area of birds included in 1,100 banded last year. In the last three years about 7,000 birds have been banded and released.

Thirty chimney swifts bearing Wisconsin bands from the previous year, were included last summer, among several hundred trapped in a single raid in a chimney of the university chemistry building, Prof. Wagner says. The 30 swifts had been banded at about the same time.

The banded are often found in far-away, isolated places, according to Prof. Wagner. A related report recently came from an isolated Hudson Bay company post at Waswanipi, Canada, telling how an Indian had brought in a band found on a herring gull. The band was sent to the Biological Survey at Washington, where it was recognized as a Wisconsin label. Records showed that the band had been put on a young gull two months before its finding.

The supposed phenomenon of red snow, seen many times at 5000 feet above sea level on Mount Albert Edward, British Columbia, has been explained as being due to the presence of a minute plant known to botanists as protococcus nivalis.

How One Thin Woman Gained 11 Pounds

Read This Letter

This is from Mrs. W. E. Looney—
"I just must tell you that McCoy's Tablets are the finest thing I have ever tried. I have always been thin and never found anything to do me so much good. I was disappointed in the beginning.

I weighed 104 when I began—now I weigh 115½. I praise them. I can't be without them. My limbs are picking up fine. I am singing their praises to everyone I see. I didn't have any faith in them to start.

Science Necessary For Austrian Police Force

Vienna, Austria—(P)—Vienna has one of the best-trained and most efficient police forces in the world. Unlike most American police training schools, which give recruits only a few months of drill before turning them out on the streets as full-fledged policemen, the Vienna Police Academy gives its men a thorough two-year course in criminal investigation.

Police "rookies" in the Vienna school, which is national in character, not only are required to take from eight to ten hours of instruction and drill in practical police work every day, but are obliged to live at the school and are subject to live at the discipline.

In charge of Franz Shober, president of police of the Austrian republic and one-time prime minister, the Vienna Police Academy contains not only a whole museum of criminal devices used by burglars, murderers, bandits and counterfeiters, but a scientific laboratory with every known means for the detection of crime.

There are thousands of specimens of bloodstains, finger-prints, footprints, forged passports, counterfeit money, falsified documents of every description, masks, false beards, toupees, and examples of almost every artifice and trick known to crime. The varieties of fire-arms, daggers, bludgeons, black-jacks and safe-cracking devices would fill an arsenal.

There is a whole menagerie of small animals which Austrian laws forbid hunters to shoot; an entire aquarium of rare fish which Austrian policemen are called upon to protect from marauding fishermen; a complete aviary of scarce birds which the ornithological authorities wish to perpetuate; and hundreds of varieties of delicate flowers and trees which the public is forbidden to touch. Students in the Police Academy are obliged to familiarize themselves with every one of these specimens so that he can identify them at an instant's notice.

Few apothecary establishments have a more complete variety of poisonous drugs and chemicals than the police academy. These are studied and analyzed by Austria's future policemen and detectives, who soon learn how to detect any of the various poisons or knockout drops used by suicides, murderers or thugs. In addition to elementary courses in chemistry, students are given instruction in the rudiments of medicine, anatomy, hygiene, and first-aid treatment.

Austrian police recruits range in age from 18 to 25. As an incentive to conscientious study and hard work they are paid while learning. Politeness and civility to the public are stressed.

USE CREAM SEPARATOR TO RID OIL OF WATER

Pauls Valley, Okla.—(P)—Machines which separate cream from milk on farms remove water from petroleum in the oil fields near here.

Oil operators were perplexed with the problem of extracting water from petroleum until a former dairyman suggested the use of a cream separator. One company bought a separator and followed the dairyman's suggestion. The farm machine was a success in the oil business after it had been adjusted and the company bought more separators. Now hundreds are used, but oil men call them "purifiers," leaving the word "separator" for use on the farm.

"Purifiers" are attached to the flow line from the oil well. They carry the water into a reservoir and take the oil into storage tanks.

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Teaspoonful of Salts If Back Pains or Bladder Is Irritated

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy; full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a teaspoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. adv.

LAW MAKERS MAY TAX FOR APPROPRIATION

Attorney General Gives Ruling on Powers of Legislators in Special Session

Madison —(AP)—The authority of the special session of the legislature to make appropriations carries with it the power to tax, and determine by what methods of taxation funds shall be provided, the attorney has informed the state assembly.

His opinion was given late Wednesday in response to a resolution passed at the morning session, inquiring if the legislators are limited by the governor's call for a special session to an appropriation only of $750,000 for the board of control, and if they might take up the methods by which funds appropriated may be raised.

The attorney general's opinion that the session may discuss taxation methods, opens the way to a renewal of the fight between the senate and assembly over surtax and mill tax in order to provide funds for the charitable and penal institutions. At the last special session, the assembly passed an appropriation bill which provided for a surtax to raise money for the institutions. The senate declined to approve a surtax.

The ruling holds, however, that the teachers' retirement fund is not one which the legislature may use for the benefit of a trust fund, and not one from which the state may appropriate as a general fund.

In view of the fact that the governor has called upon the legislators to make an appropriation from state funds for an emergency, it is necessary for them to consider what funds are available to them, and to take into consideration the amount that will relieve the emergency, the opinion holds.

The governor alone has authority to determine when the legislature may be convened in special session, the opinion holds. He cannot, however, prescribe the particular way and manner in which the business he has designated shall be transacted in all its details.

"Legislative judgment and discretion as to the transaction of business specially named are certainly not inhibited at special sessions. The legislature cannot go beyond the limits of the business specially named in the proclamation, but within the limits of such business it may act freely, according to its own judgment."

The special session, then, has authority, according to the opinion, to fix the amount of the appropriation necessary to relieve the emergency; has the authority to raise the money by a revenue bill, and may decide the methods by which such funds may be obtained.

"THE STUDENT PRINCE"
TO BE SEEN HERE SOON

In a massive filmization of the celebrated old romance of Heidelberg and the prince who sought happiness there, Ramon Novarro and Norma Shearer come to the Elite Theatre for 5 days starting Monday. The picture is called "The Student Prince" and is the latest super-production to come from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

Ernst Lubitsch, the director, has treated this most beautiful of love stories in a tender and romantic fashion. It is just a simple plot of a boy and girl, an unhappy prince and his pathetic sweetheart, a maid in the village inn, but they love with a devotion that is greater than royal traditions, greater than life itself and then because society is what it is and because youth was made for sacrifice, they part.

The splendid artistic calibre of the cast and the inspired direction of the master Lubitsch, have made of this the ultimate in motion picture. It was produced on a lavish scale with minute attention paid to authentic detail.

The cast includes Jean Hersholt, Edward Connelly, Lionel Belmore, George K. Arthur, Gustav Von Seyffertitz, Edith Chapman and others of note.

LAUGHTER IS A CONTAGION FILM PROVES (Advance Feature)

Laughter is the most infectious of all human experiences.

An incident during the filming of "The Cohens and Kellys in Paris," the Universal production coming to the Appleton Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday proves it.

William Beaudine, the director, was making a scene in which J. Farrell MacDonald draws the laughter from a large group of extras. The set was surrounded with a fence to keep visitors away and the scene was ordered shot.

Inside, extras laughed their heartiest, while outside, people passed by on their business. As the laughter struck their ears they smiled, for no logical reason at all. While they were within hearing of the mirth, they beamed, but as soon as they got too far away, the contagion of joy left them and they became serious again in their pursuit of the fruits of life.

The very contagion of laughter is one of the reasons for the popularity of comedy-drama such as "The Cohens and Kellys in Paris."

RIN-TIN-TIN FLIES IN WORLD WAR FILM

Rin-Tin-Tin, the world's most famous dog, adds gems to his collar by his latest picture, "A Dog of the Regiment" in which he plays the part of a Red Cross dog of the Germans, who for the sake of an old friendship saves the life of an American ace, whose plane is wrecked and burning. Rinty afterward escapes with his pal, in an air-flight of many breath-taking thrills.

Albert S. Howson wrote the story which was pictured by Charles R. Condon. In the cast are Tom Galloway, Dorothy Gulliver and Joan Peters. Ross Lederman directed. "A Dog of the Regiment," which is acclaimed as Rinty's most exciting picture, comes to the Appleton Theatre Friday. The gang will all be there.

CURED his RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Guesses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation if you write to me Eugene M. SMALL FRUITS PROVIDE BIG INCOME FOR BADGER FARMERS

BRING BIG RETURNS WITH LITTLE LABOR, FARM EXPERT SAYS

Strawberries Are Safe in Hands of Beginners and Find Ready Market

BY W. F. WINSEY
Green Bay — Small fruits, such as strawberries, raspberries and blackberries, are a valuable source of income on many Wisconsin farms of which the value of strawberries alone is estimated at $4,000,000, according to a statement of R. J. Rahmlof, secretary of the Wisconsin Horticultural Society.

A larger profit per acre generally comes from raising berries than from the ordinary farm crops. Strawberries are the easiest for the beginner to grow but for a number of years, there has been a shortage of raspberries in local markets.

"Small fruits, such as strawberries, raspberries and blackberries, are a valuable source of income on many Wisconsin farms," says Mr. Rahmlof. "The importance of this type of cash crops is clearly shown by the annual value of the strawberry crop produced on state farms. It alone, according to recent estimates, is worth $4,000,000 and practically all of it is grown as a side-line or a minor farm operation."

"Red and black raspberries comprise a valuable side-line, especially in districts close to large markets," continues Mr. Rahmlof. "At the present time many cities in the state depend upon outside states for berry supplies, much of which is shipped across Lake Michigan. A local grower who brings fresh fruit to the market, has a decided advantage and finds a ready sale at good prices for high quality products."

"The cultivation of small fruit is of special interest to both the beginner with limited capital and to the farmer living near large cities but having small acreage. Under these conditions, small fruits generally net a larger profit per acre than can be obtained with the general farm crops. Consequently, the berry industry is often developed to a marked extent on the high priced land near the cities. Another advantage of a location near the markets is that pickers can be readily obtained."

"Among the leading varieties of strawberries the Senator Dunlap and Warfield which have enjoyed wide popularity among berry growers. Premier is one of the newer varieties that is meeting with favor as an early berry. Another new variety is the Deavor, and in some sections, varieties such as Cooper, Gibson, and Dr. Burrill, are replacing the old Senator."

"For a number of years there has been an actual shortage of raspberries to meet local demands in the state. Lately, however, new interest has been taken in this cash crop, and the acreage has been greatly increased. In some sections, canning factories are equipped to take care of surpluses."

"Many prominent growers recommend the King and Latham as the best varieties of red raspberries, both being standard and grown extensively. Herbert, another good variety, is also gaining in popularity."

"Although the demand for blackberries is not as wide as some other berry crops, there is a good market for the crop in some districts of the state. Probably the best known varieties are Eldorado and Snyder."

"Of all the small fruits, strawberries are easiest to grow and are safest in the hands of the beginner. As with other cash crops, an income from strawberries or other small fruits is important to many farmers, and on the average farm they may, until picking time, be handled with a very small amount of labor."

*STOCKBRIDGE FARM SOLD FOR $12,000

Stockbridge—John Larey has purchased the Fred Pike farm of 80 acres for $12,000. Forest Larey, son of John Larey, will run the farm for his father. The farm is located on the north side of the town of Stockbridge. It has 15 acres of timber and 15 acres of open land. The farm is well equipped with a house, barn, and other outbuildings. The owner is leaving the farm to his son, who is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin.

Oconto-co Poultry Raisers Meet And Form Association

BY W. F. WINSEY
Oconto—The first annual egg show to be conducted by the Laermans in their Oconto store was held Tuesday, March 6. The purposes of the show were to call attention of egg producers that quality products command the high prices, that Oconto county is a large producer of poultry and eggs, that by grading eggs into special, extra, standards, grades, dirties and checks, top prices can be obtained, and that the poultry people of Oconto county can produce special and extra quality which will create a demand and a premium for Oconto eggs.

For the purpose of awarding the maximum number of premiums at the show the territory about Oconto was divided into six districts in which the egg producers of each district not only competed with each other but also with those of the other districts.

Another purpose of the egg show was the organization of the poultry raisers into an association to be known as the Oconto County Poultry Improvement Association. J. T. Etheridge, county agent, explained the plan and

BADGER FARMERS GET LOW SHIPPING RATES

Get Advantage of Almost 25 Cents Per Hundredweight on Potatoes to South

Madison—(P)—The advantage of almost 25 cents per hundredweight given Wisconsin and Minnesota potatoes in shipment to the southwest, upon which the utilities commission of Idaho is basing complaint to the interstate commerce commission, was secured partly through shippers and merchants of this state.

The state railroad commission took no part in the testimony in hearings that established this rate, but watched the proceedings with interest while the other representatives of Wisconsin were before the interstate commerce body, it was said there today.

The rates are a part of the national commission's rulings that were the result of the "Southwest Investigation of rates," carried out by the commission for several years. Orders out of those hearings which were issued April 5, 1927, are not all effective as yet, awaiting publication. Among them is the potato rate question.

Apparently in an attempt to have the rate changed before it becomes effective by publication, the Idaho commission remonstrated to the interstate body, holding that the rate between certain points in Wisconsin and Minnesota to points in Oklahoma, Texas, and other southwestern states was about 22 cents lower than from Idaho to those points.

PATHOLOGISTS FIND APPLE SCAB CURE

Effective Means of Combating Disease Worked Out at Experiment Stations

Madison—(P)—Effective means of combatting apple scab, even in extremely wet spring seasons, have been developed by plant pathologists working at the experiment stations in Madison and Sturgeon Bay.

Two additional spraying periods, during which danger from loss to the crop from apple scab may be decreased, have been discovered, according to R. E. Vaughan, pathologist at the college of agriculture.

These two stages are known as the "green tip" and "closed cluster" and are earlier than the pink bud stage, which was formerly the earliest stage at which spraying was recommended.

It is still sufficient to spray the apple trees first during the "pink bud" stage, Mr. Vaughan says, in dry seasons. But in wet springs, such as Wisconsin farmers and fruit men experienced last year, it is well to spray during the two earlier periods.

The loss of the apple crop of the state last year from scab was great, he says, and there was about 70 per cent of infection in orchards which were sprayed before the pink bud stage.

The four spraying periods formerly recommended by plant pathologists are the pink bud, calyx, ten-day and summer spray stages. Orchardists recommend that the fruit growers still spray in these stages, but that they add to them the green tip and closed cluster stage, especially if the season is wet.

METHODS OF RAISING PEDIGREED GRAIN IS TOLD IN BULLETINS

Several Years Necessary by Centenger Process but Big Profits Returned

BY W. F. WINSEY
Oconto—So little is generally known about the processes of developing and disseminating pedigreed grain that the following sentences and paragraphs, describing those processes, taken from Circular 170 issued by the Extension Service of the College of Agriculture, are reproduced to clear up those processes.

High yielding grains lower the cost of crop production and increase the profits of production, says the opening paragraph in the circular, and low producing grains at any price are too expensive in time, effort and money. Good seed properly sown will insure the greatest success in crop production. It has been estimated that 95 percent of all the barley and 75 percent of the corn grown within the borders of Wisconsin are of the purchased varieties.

In the selection method, foundation stock from the best known varieties of grain are sown in one-twentieth acre plots and the plants are studied during the growing periods. The best heads from 100 plants are selected when mature, and the heavy, plump ones retained. These select kernels are sown the following year and the grains are again graded as before.

In the centenger process, three thousand kernels of the grain are planted four inches apart. Only the plants growing under uniform conditions inside the border rows are retained. The plants showing superior qualities are marked by placing a "X" beside each one. Twenty plants are usually selected from each head. The heads are clipped from these plants and put in separate envelopes and the ten envelopes weighing the most are retained.

The second year, the seeds in each of the ten selected envelopes are sown in little square plots known as centenger beds. The best heads from at least ten of the best plants are secured. These are placed in envelopes to be used the following year.

The third year the process of the second year is repeated and in the fourth year the entire field of each of the ten centenger plots are compared with that of each of the other nine and the grain from four plots in the test giving the greatest yields are retained for increase plots.

In the fourth year, sufficient seed is secured from the centenger plots to sow broadcast at least one square rod of each variety. From these increase plots, sufficient seed is produced to sow a tenth of an acre from which the yield of grain is sufficient to sow an acre.

To obtain new strains of wheat, oats or barley by crossing or hybridization, it is necessary to remove the stamens of the flower before they are far enough advanced to shed their pollen

PRESENT DAY HARNESS IS BETTER, BLICK SAYS

Black Creek—According to N. A. Blick, the veteran harness maker of this village, farmers are now getting their farm harness washed, oiled and repaired, as one of the preliminaries to beginning spring work in the fields.

A harness that is kept in a dry place, and is washed, oiled and repaired lasts almost a life time, says Mr. Blick. Admitting that harnesses may be abused and destroyed prematurely, Mr. Blick says that owing to improved methods of tanning leather and the use of modern machinery in the harnessing of the harness, the modern harness is an improvement over that formerly produced by hand work, out of which early-day harnesses were made.

SLOW HORSE RACE WILL BE FEATURE DURING 1928 FAIR

Hortonville—According to Isadore Scholl, president of the Hortonville Fair Association, the premiums in the poultry department are increased over those of former years and exhibitors are limited to those of Outagamie county. Increase in premiums are also offered in the horse department. A slow horse race in which an owner drives the horse of a rival instead of his own, will be one of the exciting features of the fair next fall. Another outstanding feature will be an elimination contest between the baseball teams of Outagamie county.

WANT FARMERS TO RAISE BEET CROP

Menominee Concern Would Establish Dump if Enough Acreage Is Acquired

Stockbridge—Agents of the Menominee Beet Company are visiting the farmers of South Stockbridge in order to open a new territory for beets. If they can get 500 acres in this vicinity they will build a beet dump on the old Fingel Factory site now the property of Frank Ludwig. The territory is to occupy a radius of not more than two miles to save hauling distance for the farmer. The beets will be contracted for at $7.25 per ton.

and a few days later to introduce pollen from another plant.

After the stamens are removed and the pollen from some other plant is introduced, the flower again is closed and covered with thin tissue paper to allow the light to penetrate but to prevent pollen of any other plant from entering.

As soon as a superior strain of grain has been developed, it is disseminated among the members of the Wisconsin Experiment Association, most of whom have completed a course in agriculture at the University. Each member is entitled to one bushel of small grains or enough to plant an acre. Each variety is thus increased rapidly and disseminated widely in a short time. If the members desire to sell, they report the name of the variety, together with the amount of seed for sale, to the secretary of the association.

The seed is carefully inspected both in the field and later in the bin by a representative of the experiment association to determine its truthfulness to type, freedom from mixture, with other grains and disease. If the seed passes inspection, the grower's name together with the amount of seed he has for sale, is listed in a special pamphlet which is sent on application to all prospective purchasers of pure-bred seed.

CO-OP ASSOCIATIONS BOOST PRICES PAID TO BADGER FARMERS

Enormous Amount of Business Transacted During Year. Reports Show

Madison—Cooperative shipping associations landed an average of 45 per cent of the livestock moving from Wisconsin farms last year, according to Martin A. Schuurs, economist of the college of agriculture.

These associations, of which there are 250 in the state with a membership of from 500 to 1,000, have been organized by farmers on an effort to get a better price for their stock.

The organization of such a cooperative is comparatively simple. One farmer is chosen as the association's manager. Often he is a man not actively engaged in farm work, who can devote his attention to the business interests of the cooperative shipping.

When farmers expect to have stock ready for shipment, they notify their manager that on a certain day they will be ready to load a certain number of hogs, cattle or sheep. Much of the shipping is done in mixed car lots. When the livestock is delivered to the railway stock pen, their manager gives the farmers a receipt for the number loaded. For them they receive payment when the sale is completed at the market pen.

In this manner the necessity for waiting until a head buyer has bought up enough stock to make a carload is limited. In many cases, Mr. Schuurs says, the farmer is enabled to get better prices for his product because the element of risk which the local buyer ran is done away with through the cooperative plan.

The first of these shipping associations was organized in Durand, Persimmon, Wis., in 1906. The following year there were five associations in Persimmon county. From that date until 1917 the increase was gradual. Mr. Schuurs says, but during the two-year period of the war about 70 per cent of the existing organizations were started.

Cooperation in live-stock marketing is not limited to a local action, but also includes the handling and selling of livestock at the terminal markets. Six sales agencies operate on the Milwaukee, Chicago and St. Paul markets, according to Mr. Schuurs. They are in competition with two private commission firms at Milwaukee, about 125 at Chicago and 32 at St. Paul.

The Equity-Cooperative Livestock Sales association, operating at Milwaukee, during the past six years handled a total of 11,000 car loads of livestock with a sales value of $10,378,512.25.

Stockbridge—George Becker is conducting the farm belonging to Al Schumacher until the first of April. If Mr. Schumacher does not sell the farm before that date, Mr. Becker intends to rent it for the summer.

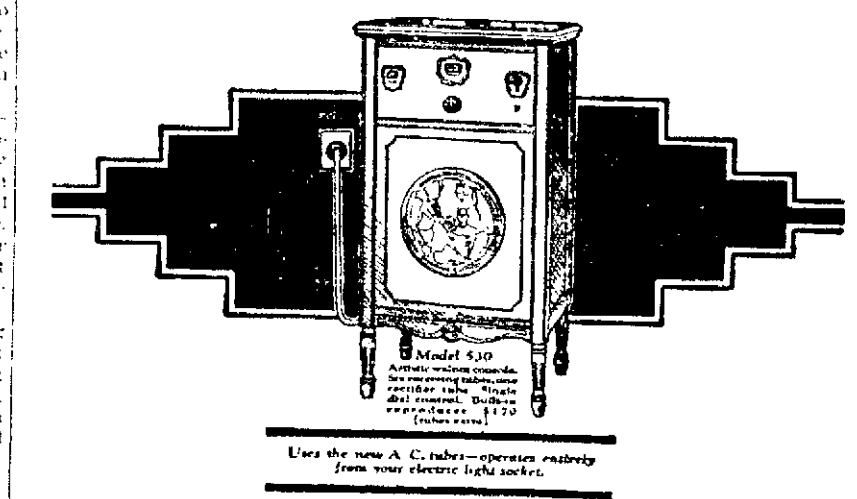

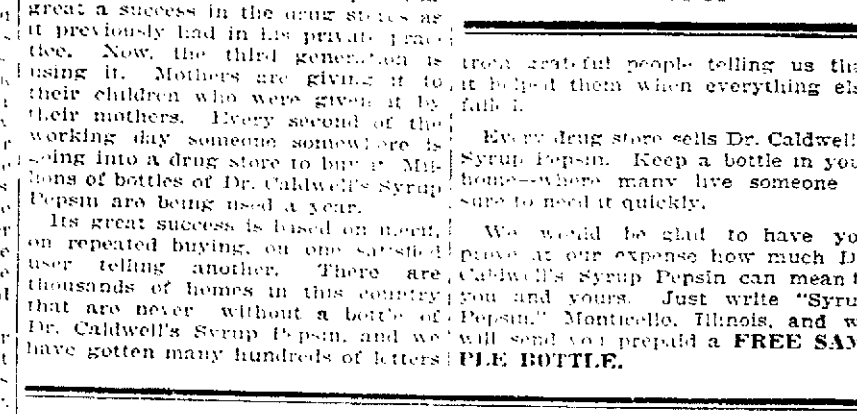

Doctor Found What is Best for Thin, Constipated People

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of his 47 years' practice, he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1873. He found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with opium. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had a great success in the drug stores and it previously had in his private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy a bottle of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit. We would be glad to have you on repeated buying, on one special price at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to thousands of homes where many have been helped with a bottle of Pepsin. Write "Syrup" to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we will send you a prepaid FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

Big Things
Lost Sight Of In Little

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
TWO girls went to a play. It was a marvelous play, skillfully written and beautifully acted. The audience laughed and cried by turns, swayed absolutely by the master pen of the playwright.
When they came out, one girl slipped her tear-soaked handkerchief into her bag and dabbed some powder on her swollen nose.
"Silly!" laughed the other "What was there to cry about? I couldn't see a thing but that girl's red wig. No human hair ever looked like that. Reminded me of an old sheep's wool rug we had at home one time."
A prima donna was singing. Her voice filled the theatre. The audience held its breath thrilled to their toes. Then suddenly there was a titter. Soon half the audience was giggling. The reason was obvious. The foot-light threw the silhouette of the singer on a curtain behind her. As she sang the shadow of her hand made a perfect donkey's head. Sometimes it even opened its mouth to bray.
The performance was ruined.
A lecturer, now dead and gone, but immortalized by the words of wisdom packed away in a small weekly magazine still cherished by his followers, once gave a talk to some school girls. He smacked his lips a bit as he spoke and the girls went into hysterics. I was one. Later I read the same lecture in a magazine, and there was a gap in wisdom, kindness and beauty, that lecture was one. I have been ashamed ever since. I saved the printed words for years a constant reminder of my silliness.
We lose big things by attention to little ones.

CONCEALING POOR PROPORTION HINTS

BY ANN ALYSIS
THERE is no true beauty where there is not correct proportion. In the human form, the head, neck, torso, limbs, hands and feet should bear an artistically correct ratio toward each other as the foundation of all other beauty. An instinctive sense of proportion expresses itself when you remark that a certain person has too long or too short a neck, too small a head, or that she is too stout, which is another way of saying that she is too broad for her length. These things are all sins against good proportion, and the eye is offended by such faults.
Nothing much may be done to correct faults of construction, but, happily, a great deal may be done to disguise or camouflage them. By skillful arrangement of the hair the proportionally small or large head may be made to appear just right in size. Too short a neck makes the distance from shoulders to the top of the head unpleasant, but arranging the hair high and selecting a hat with a rather high crown does a lot toward adding necessary inches.
Watch out for the neckline of the dress, a deep and narrow cut is best, as it also apparently adds inches to the throat. If the neck is so long as to be out of proportion, wear close-fitting chokers and necklaces of costume jewelry as well as high neckbands.

VELVETEEN CAPE
Green velveteen with a soft tanish cast, fashions a three-quarters cape for sports that is stunning over soft colored silk or white frocks.

COLLARLESS NECKLINES
Collarless necklines grow interesting this spring. One, in a blue tailcoat of rep has a tiny round yoke with the body meeting it in fine pin tucks.

HANDY FLAPS
New handbags, in gaily colors, feature outside flaps that raise to reveal a mirror and compartments for change and make-up.

PLAID SUITS
Invisible plaids, in tans, greys and blues, are excellent for youthful tailcoats this season. The most tailored, however, has soft lines.

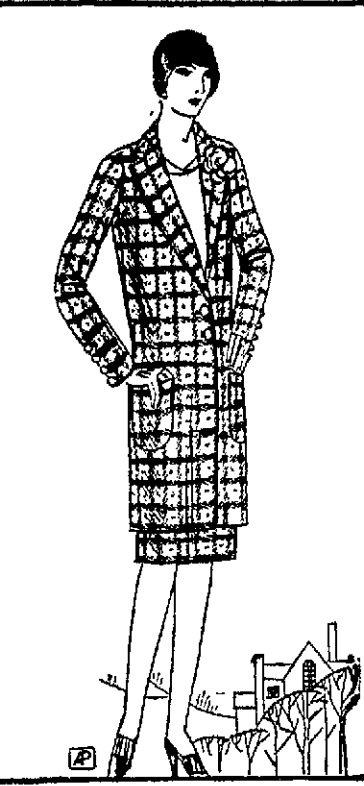

The clothes moth does not drink water, but must manufacture it from its food; thus evaporation is excessive the insect dies.

TESTS SHOW MEN
DOGGED WHILE WOMEN SMART

Missoula, Mont.—(P)—Men are not as smart as women, but they are more persevering, according to psychology tests at Montana university.
In grade points, women were shown to be 20 per cent better than men, but men buckled down to a hard course, and overcame failure more easily.
The tests were made by Prof. I. O. Smith, chairman of the psychology department of the institution, and the analysis will be used by the university in trying to affect a solution of its scholarship problems.

Household Hints

POLISHED SHOES
Calf skin and kid shoes should be shined before wearing to prevent scuffing. Especially is this true of children's footwear.

CLEANING HATS
If you are cleaning a felt hat at home, place it over a stew pan or bowl while scrubbing it and you can keep it in shape perfectly.

DELICIOUS SNACKS
For tea, bridge refreshments or for cocktail parties, anchovy paste with water cross between whole wheat and white bread makes appetizing sandwiches.

THE TINYMITES

By Hal Cochran

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

THE candleman rode 'round about, and then the Times heard him shout, "Well, all you Tinsles be real good. I'm going to leave you now. I have to find a candle quick to put right in this candlestick. I'm going to ride around until I locate one somehow."
The candlestick then jerked a bit as if someone was pushing it. "It's going to fall," cried Clowny. "See, it isn't riding right." But then it seemed to straighten out, and with a very merry shout, the candleman was on his way, and soon sailed out of sight.
The baker in the tub, then sighed. Said he, "I'm tiring of this ride. I'd like to float down to the ground and walk around a while. That will be easy, I expect, if you wee Tinsles don't object. It will not take us very long. It's only 'bout a mile."
"Oh, we would like it," Scouty said, "so, if you want to, so ahead." And then the butcher broke right in. Said he, "Before you stop, I think, I'll call my cow, and skip. Before me is a long, long trip that I must take tonight so I can reach my butcher shop."
He then stood up and called, "Moo! 'Moo, Moo!' My, what a funny thing to do. The Times laughed quite heartily. Then Copsy loudly cried, "Oh, look! There's something coming now. Perhaps it is the butcher's cow." The butcher then said, "Sure! That is the cow I'm going to ride."
The butcher hopped aboard it when it came up very close, and then it made the Times laugh to see the show sail through the air. When it was far, far out of sight, the baker said, "I guess we might as well sail down to earth. I'll be real glad when we are there."

CUPID FOLLOWS
WOMEN INTO THE FOREIGN FIELD

Washington—(P)—Since the state department began to take women into the foreign service, three have resigned appointments, but one already has resigned to be married and there is a rumor that another plans to abandon her official career for matrimony.
Miss Lucille Atchison, of Ohio, a Smith college graduate, was America's first woman diplomat. She was appointed in the Harding administration and served as a third secretary of legation in Bern and Panama. She now is married and lives in Chicago.
Miss Pattie Field of Denver, who has an A. B. degree from Radcliffe, was the second in the foreign service. She was appointed in 1925 and still is a vice consul at Amsterdam, whence the rumor concerning matrimony emanates.
The third is Miss Frances Willis of Redlands, Calif., a graduate of Stanford university and a former assistant professor of political science at Vassar. She is enroute to Valparaiso, Chile, as vice consul.

BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Mother Dear:
Don't you know that a woman's first duty to herself and the world is to keep herself looking attractive? Of course we don't go in for holding husbands any more. If a man wants to go, let him. It's a broader view we have now, a bigger reason for taking care of our looks.
We know that all the activities of business revolve about woman. Does that sound far fetched? Just listen. Why do men do things? To be successful of course. And why do they want to be successful? To make money. And who do they want to make money for? A woman. And they want that woman to be pretty and well groomed. If she measures up, they like to show her off at the opera, and if she doesn't, they'll join a poker club.
A lot of good it will do me to go to bed with the chickens just so I could get up and make some coffee that Alan can make better. He'd go out when I went to bed and he wouldn't be around the next day after breakfast to see the good results.
Anyway, I'm not so sure a man wants to see his wife early in the morning. I don't like to look at Alan before he's shaved and he'd hate to have me crowding the bathroom. And if you think I'd ever sit across the breakfast table from Alan before I'd gotten myself looking decent you don't know your darling child. What men must have thought of those early-worm women with their boudoir caps and cotton kimonos I'd hate to listen to!
No siree, we wouldn't lift a finger to hold a man when he's through, but we know enough about the male species to credit them with a little esthetic taste, and that's something women did not do once upon a time.
And the way to get on in business has changed too. The other night Alan asked me to do up in my scantiest evening dress because we were going out with the Durcolls. He's trying to land a contract from Driscoll and if he'd followed father's rule of early to bed he would have a swell chance, wouldn't he? As it was we hurried a real party after a show and gave the D's a thrill. They're out-of-town people, you know.
He enjoyed it but she was kind of quiet. She's awfully dowdy, too. You'd think the wife of such a prominent man would have more class. Well, I hope Alan closes the deal. The party cost enough!
With all my love,

THE CANARY MURDER CASE

by S. S. VAN DINE AUTHOR OF THE BENSON MURDER CASE

CHARACTERS

MARGARET ODELL (THE "CANARY")
CHARLES CLEAVER, a man-about-town
KENNETH SPOTSWOOD, a manufacturer
LOUIS HANNIX, an importer
DR. AMBROSE LINDQUIST, a fashionable neurologist
TONY SKEEL, a professional burglar
WILLIAM ELMER JESSUP, telephone operator
HARRY SPIVELY, telephone operator
ERNEST HEATH, Sergeant of the Homicide Bureau

THE STORY THUS FAR
"The gentleman came out of Miss Odell's apartment about 11:30," said Jessup, "and asked me to call him a cab. While he was waiting Miss Odell screamed. We rushed back to her door and he knocked. She answered and said everything was all right and for him to go home. About ten minutes later someone called her on the phone and a man's voice answered from her apartment." No one else had come in, said Jessup, or gone out. The only other means of exit or entrance was the side door to the alley, and that had been bolted on the inside the evening before and was found that way in the morning. Yet Margaret Odell's strangled body was found in her apartment the next morning."

CHAPTER X
"But even if Dubois does identify those prints," said Markham, "we'll have to show how the owner of them got into this place last night. He'll claim, of course, they were made prior to the crime."
"Well, it's a sure thing," declared Heath stubbornly, "that there was some man in here last night when Odell got back from the theater, and that he was still here until after the other man left at half past eleven. The woman's screams and the answering of the phone call at twenty minutes to twelve prove it. And since Doc Doremus said that the murder took place before midnight, there's no getting away from the fact that the guy who was hiding in here did the job."
"That appears incontrovertible," agreed Markham. "And I'm inclined to think it was some one she knew. She probably screamed when he first revealed himself, and then, recognizing him, calmed down and told the other man out in the hall that nothing was the matter. . . . Later on he strangled her."
"Right suggest," added Vance, "that his place of hiding was that clothes press."
"Sure," the Sergeant concurred. "But what's bothering me is how he got in here. The day operator who was at the switchboard until ten last night told me that the man who called and took Odell out to dinner was the only visitor she had."

Markham gave a grunt of exasperation.
"Bring the day man in here," he ordered. "We've got to straighten this thing out. Somebody got in here last night, and he's got to be found out how it was done."
Vance gave him a look of patronizing amusement.
"I know, Markham," he said, "I'm not blessed with the gift of psychic inspiration, but I have one of those strange, indescribable feelings, as the minor poets say, that if you really contemplate remaining in this bestrewn boudoir till you've discovered how the mysterious visitor gained admittance here last night, you'd do jolly well to send for your toilet accessories and several changes of fresh linen—not to mention your pajamas. The chap who engineered this little soiree planned his entrance and exit most carefully and perspicaciously."
Markham regarded Vance dubiously, but made no reply.
(Tuesday, September 11: 11:15 a. m.)

Heath had stepped out into the hall, and now returned with the day telephone operator, a tall, thin young man who, we learned, was named Spively.
His almost black hair, which accentuated the pallor of his face, was sleeked back from his forehead with pomade; and he wore a very shallow mustache, which barely extended beyond the line of his nostrils. He was dressed in an exaggeratedly dapper fashion, in a dazzling chocolate-colored suit cut very close to his figure, a pair of cloth-topped but toned shoes, and a pink shirt with a stiff turn-over collar to match.
He appeared nervous and immediately sat down in the wicker chair by the door, fingering the sharp creases of his trousers, and running the tip of his tongue over his lips.
Markham went straight to the point.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe, or even worse, Pneumonia unless you take care of it at once.

Run Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster; does the work without blister.

Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

You feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

Again Spively swallowed hard and wetted his lips.
"It was like this," he began with effort. "The fellow came in and started walking down the hall, and I said to him: 'Miss Odell isn't in.' But he kept on going and said: 'Oh, well, I'll ring the bell to make sure.'"
"A telephone call came through just then, and I let him go on. He rang the bell and knocked on the door, but of course there wasn't any answer; and pretty soon he came on back and said: 'I guess you were right.' Then he tossed me a half a dollar, and went out."
"You actually saw him go out?" There was a note of disappointment in Markham's voice.
"Sure, I saw him go out. He stopped just inside the front door and lit a cigaret. Then he opened the door and turned toward Broadway."
"One by one the rosy petals fall," came Vance's indolent voice. "A most amusing situation!"
Markham was loath to relinquish his hope in the criminal possibilities of this one caller who had come and gone at half past nine.
"What was this man like?" he asked. "Can you describe him?"
Spively sat up straight, and when he answered, it was with enthusiasm that showed he had taken special note of the visitor.
"He was good-looking, not so old—

Now the One Minute Potato Dip

Disinfect your seed this new way

Treat your seed potatoes as fast as you can scoop them up. Just dip them in DIPDUST solution and out again—all ready to plant.

This new seed potato disinfectant is much more effective than the old-fashioned "two-hour soak" treatment—besides there is not the slightest danger of injuring the sprouts or even cut seed. This season late blight attack in many seed producing areas makes treatment with DIPDUST necessary to prevent seed decay.

After one trial of DIPDUST, you will never again waste two hours treating seed potatoes or spend two weeks worrying about your stand. DIPDUST PROTECTS THE SEED AND INSURES STURDY, PROFITABLE PLANTS.

Compare this New Treatment point by point with the older ones:

THE NEW WAY	THE OLD WAY
Dipdust Organic Mercury Disinfectant	Formaldehyde or Corrosive Sublimite
1. Requires less than 1 minute. One man can easily treat from 200 to 400 bushels of potatoes per day.	1. Require from 1 1/2 to 2 hours. One man can treat only from 50 to 75 bushels per day.
2. Can be used on cut or sprouted seed without the slightest injury.	2. Can not be used on cut or sprouted seed without injury.
3. After cutting, protects the cut surfaces from seed-rotting organisms in the soil. This insures a better stand of stronger plants.	3. Before cutting, give no protection to the cut surfaces. The seed frequently decays in the ground before the young plants get started.
4. Controls surface-borne diseases, such as Rhizoctonia, scab and black-leg.	4. Although effective against Rhizoctonia, and scab, do not control black-leg.
5. Improves the stand and growth of the plants, and thus increases the yield 10 to 20%.	5. Frequently decrease the stand, and therefore the yield, to a serious extent.

One pound treats fifteen bushels of seed potatoes.

Treat your Corn and Vegetable Seeds too

You can now also disinfect your seed corn and vegetable seeds with DIPDUST and increase your yield by preventing many of the diseases which cause poor germination, weak, spindly plants, and poor quality crop. Simply use as a dust treatment. It is easily and quickly applied and costs but a few cents per acre. One pound of DIPDUST will treat six bushels of seed corn, or from six to eight bushels of vegetable seed.

- 3 Its tenacious ability to grip the road gives the greatest possible degree of SAFETY.
- 4 Increased area of road contact and added All-Weather blocks insure SLOW, EVEN TREAD WEAR and greater satisfaction to the user.
- 5 QUIETNESS AND SMOOTH RUNNING are also made certain by the new design of tread.
- 6 This new Goodyear is admittedly the WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFUL TIRE.

The best proof of all this is the tire itself. Come in today and see this masterpiece, the Goodyear All-Weather Balloon

Prep Cage Quintets End Work For Section Meets

Marinette—(AP)—More than 150 Wisconsin high school basketball teams are putting on final touches of training preparatory to the state basketball tournament which starts March 14.

Figuring a minimum of five men to each of the prep school basketball squads there will be nearly a thousand of the high school cage stars on the many floors to be in use during the district meets.

The tournament opens with the district meet at River Falls March 14, 15 and 16. That city's high school with the basketball stars of Edgewood, River Falls, Clear Lake, Hudson, Menominee, Spring Valley and Downing Hill will contest for honors, with an eighth team to be selected in an elimination game between Roberts and Colfax.

The other tournaments start March 15 and run through the seventeenth. In the Milwaukee district, Kenosha, Kenosha, Oconomowoc, Port Washington, Slinger, West Allis, West Bend, Waukesha, and Shorewood will participate.

Barron, Bloomer, Cameron, Ladysmith, Rice Lake, St. Croix Falls and Spooner have been selected by the Wisconsin Intercollegiate Athletic Association, sponsoring the tournament, to play for a place in the state tournament in the Rice Lake district meet. An eighth participant will be selected in games between Shell Lake, Frederic, Cumberland and Laramie.

The playoffs will start at Madison March 28 to 31, will find Blooming, Cuba City, Potosi, Gays Mills, Platteville, Richland Center and Waubesa fighting for top rank, with an eighth participant to be selected from Patch Grove and Joygreen.

In the Alma high school three teams will fight for district honors: La Crosse, Central, Redwood, Baraboo, Tomah, Stoughton and Galena. Seventh and eighth teams are to win their way out of a battle between Alma, Cudahy, Fond du Lac, Prairie du Chien and Norwalk. West Salem, Westby, Wopewoc and Witten.

SEVEN IN MEET
S. S. Schlosser of the Algoma district will manage the play of Algoma, Kewaunee, Sturgeon Bay, East De Moine, Luxemburg, Valders and Seymour, with elimination games between Denmark and Sevastopol, Kewaunee is touted as having winning material in this district.

Marshfield or Kenosha are expected to be the leaders in the Marshfield play.

SATURDAY GAME

Oshkosh at Marinette
Coach Joseph Shields' Appleton high school basketball team invades Marinette Friday evening. The team, which has proven one of the hardest to beat on its home floor this year, in spite of only a mediocre record. And the local cagemen must beat the home team in order to hold their position in the Valley loop.

A Marinette win would shift that team above Appleton into fourth place, moving the Orangemen to fifth.

And a win would not be unexpected if Appleton plays the brand of ball it did the final three quarters against the home team. The team has been playing a brand of caging that would have kept it near the top all year had it been played consistently by the Northerners.

Marinette was the only team to beat Oshkosh and it still is a puzzle to Valley cage fans, but Marinette fans say that was just one occasion that the Purple showed its real form and that it would have won many a game this year had it showed the same stuff consistently. Then Appleton beat Marinette here and the Schulzners are out for revenge before the home folks.

Then again there is that fourth place fight and a Marinette team hasn't finished that high in years, so that a win would make the season a decided success. All in all Appleton will have plenty of trouble winning Friday evening and several sport scribes of the Valley, especially Sheboygan, are predicting a Marinette triumph. With Wright of Oshkosh, former Appleton teacher, refereeing, the Orange will have to be decidedly careful about fouling as he is one of the sharpest-eyed officials in the loop.

60 ENTRIES IN FOR SWEEPSTAKE PIN MEET

Another sweepstake bowling tournament will be held at the Elk alleys Saturday afternoon and evening according to Clarence Currie, alley manager. All entries must be in at the alleys by Friday evening. There are 60 already in, Mr. Currie reports.

STAR RUNNER

Leo Lermann, one of the best middle distance runners in the United States, showed why he is considered such in the recent Masonic games in New York when he won the 3000 meters Olympic special. He is holding the Hirschman Trophy, awarded to the winner of the race. He is a strong Olympic possibility.

LITTLE CHUTE QUINTET PLAYS STAR GIRL FIVE

The classy Manitowish Folies basketball team, conqueror of more than a dozen crack men's teams of Wisconsin in the last year while playing boys' rules and loser to but few, will be guests of the Shorty's Shoes cagers of Little Chute in a game next Tuesday evening at Kimberly club-house. The girls' team includes several stars claimed to be better shots than most men. Included in the Little cagers are H. and R. Versteegen, Gunderson, Miron, Hovde, Vandenberg, Sanders, Vanderloop, St. Mitchell and Van Handel.

MARATHON STARS MOVE INTO DESERT

Several Prominent Runners Already Out in Cross Country Contest

Barstow, Cal.—(AP)—The Marathon runners blasing a trail across the continent, turned their backs upon civilization Thursday to plunge still deeper into the Mojave desert. A tiny water hole was the objective Thursday of the 150 odd contestants seeking a part of the $48,500 offered winners of the 3,400 mile grind from Los Angeles to New York City. The survivors of this lap will camp Thursday night at Mojave Wells, 31 miles from here.

Ten miles out of Barstow the pavement ends. Graveled roadway, soft in spots, meets the foot from that time on it is in general a rocky route, dropped steadily down toward sea level.

Thursday's lineup of starters lacked many of those who participated in Wednesday lap. Most noted of the missing were Willie Kolehmainen and Gunnar Nielsen, Finnish speedsters. The leader for the first two days, straining a tendon.

Nielsen was forced out because of swollen tendons and arches. Then at a late hour was added the name of Nicholas Quamawahu, Hopi Indian from Arizona, who having spent most of his life in desert country, was expected to increase his lead over the rest of the pack. First cramps halted the loping Redskin, but he doggedly continued on. Then a sprained ankle caused him to return to Victorville, and it was not known by officials whether he would continue.

The smallest entrant in the race, Olli Wantinen, 96-pound Finnish runner, won the honor of having the lowest total elapsed time for the 133 1-10 miles between here and Los Angeles. While he was beaten Wednesday by two others, his time of five hours, 26 minutes and 40 seconds gave him a total of 19:15:42, to lead the field.

Ed Gardner, Seattle Negro, paced the field in the fourth lap, negotiating the windswept stretch in five hours, fifteen minutes and 30 seconds. Arthur Newton, 44-year old British athlete, finished second in five hours, 25 minutes.

Dave's Dots And Dashes

Appleton high school's disastrous licking at the hands of Manitowish high school's classy cage five last week, after the Orange was chosen to give the Ships at least a hard battle, is having its effects on sport scribes of the Valley. For practically every scribe now has the Orange slated to lose to Marinette Friday at Marinette and Sheboygan comes right out and predicts it. And right after the prediction comes this statement, which as Oshkosh is fairly certain of beating Marinette, makes it certain that the scribe refers to Appleton as losing at the northern city.

"The Marinette Northerners will face a tough week. Their schedule falls for a home game against Appleton Friday evening and a game against the pace-setting Oshkosh quint on Saturday night. The Schulzites should break even."

Referees for the conference games this week include two Appleton men and a former Appleton man of four officials. Wright of Oshkosh, formerly of Appleton, will handle the Orange-Marquette game. Witte of Appleton will handle the Marinette-Oshkosh game Saturday night and Christoph of Appleton will handle the Orange-Green Bay game. Neu, who handled the Orange-Ship game here last week, has the Manitowish-Fondy battle.

Rafath, Appleton center, has dropped to sixth on the Valley conference scoring race, two points behind Klaus in fifth. Here's the latest standings:

Herber West	35	19
Tedych, Osh.	28	10
Gorychka, Man.	20	18
Pugh, Osh.	24	9

Rumors from Little Chute and Kimberly have the two villages combining for an entry in the Fox River Valley Baseball League for 1928 as Neenah and Menasha did. The step was said to have been completed at a meeting Tuesday and a sports representative will handle the affairs of the two bays at Sunday's league meeting here. The league didn't care to give the Chuters a separate franchise with one as close

FINISH SCHEDULE FOR INDUSTRY LOOP

Postponed Game Card Announced; No Games This Saturday

POSTPONED SCHEDULE
TUESDAY, MARCH 13

SATURDAY, MARCH 17
Citizens Bank vs Kimberly-Clark.
Kaukauna Mulfords vs Weber Knits.

TUESDAY, MARCH 20
Fox River vs Kaukauna Mulfords.
Citizens Bank vs Co. D.

Plans for completing the 1928 playing schedule of the Appleton Industrial-Commercial Basketball League were made at a special meeting of league officials Monday evening and at the same time Co. D, the cellar team which has yet to win a league game, withdrew from the loop. It had but one game to play, that with the Citizens Bank team and that will be forfeited. It is thought that Kimberly-Clark also will pull out as it has forfeited its last two games in the last week.

Only two teams have finished their league seasons, the leading Appleton Coated Paper Co. team and the Kaukauna Y. M. C. A. Cubs. The Coateds are sure of a tie for the top with twelve wins and two losses, and will have it alone if the Fox River lose one of their remaining two games. The Foxmen with a 10-2 mark are favored to win both, however, from Kimberly-Clark, which perhaps will as Little Chute, weakening the loop financially and as far as the playing strength of both teams was concerned.

Kimberly already had a franchise which it refused to surrender so a combination is the only fair solution. The team would be about the same as gave Kimberly the pennant last year and now Combined Locks probably will be given to Kaukauna, avoiding another difficult league problem as it was Kimberly's territory and would have been needed had Little Chute taken half the K-C team as Chute residents. Kaukauna is a weak sister.

FOUR STARS UNBEATEN IN NATIONAL CUE MEET

St. Augustine, Fla.—(AP)—Four matches that promised fireworks constituted the program for Thursday's play in the Florida East Coast Women's championship, proceeding through the second round with prime favorites in a fast field still surviving. Glenna Collett, Providence, R. I., defeated Mrs. Florence Burrows, New York, 4 and 3, Wednesday and Thursday was opposed by Mrs. Stewart Hanley, Detroit, who gained the second round by eliminating Frances Hadfield, Milwaukee, 2 up.

Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, pitted against Beatrice Gottlieb, New York, provided another attractive match for the second round by virtue of their respective victories over Fritz Stifel, Wheeling, W. Va., and Harriet Ellison, Boston.

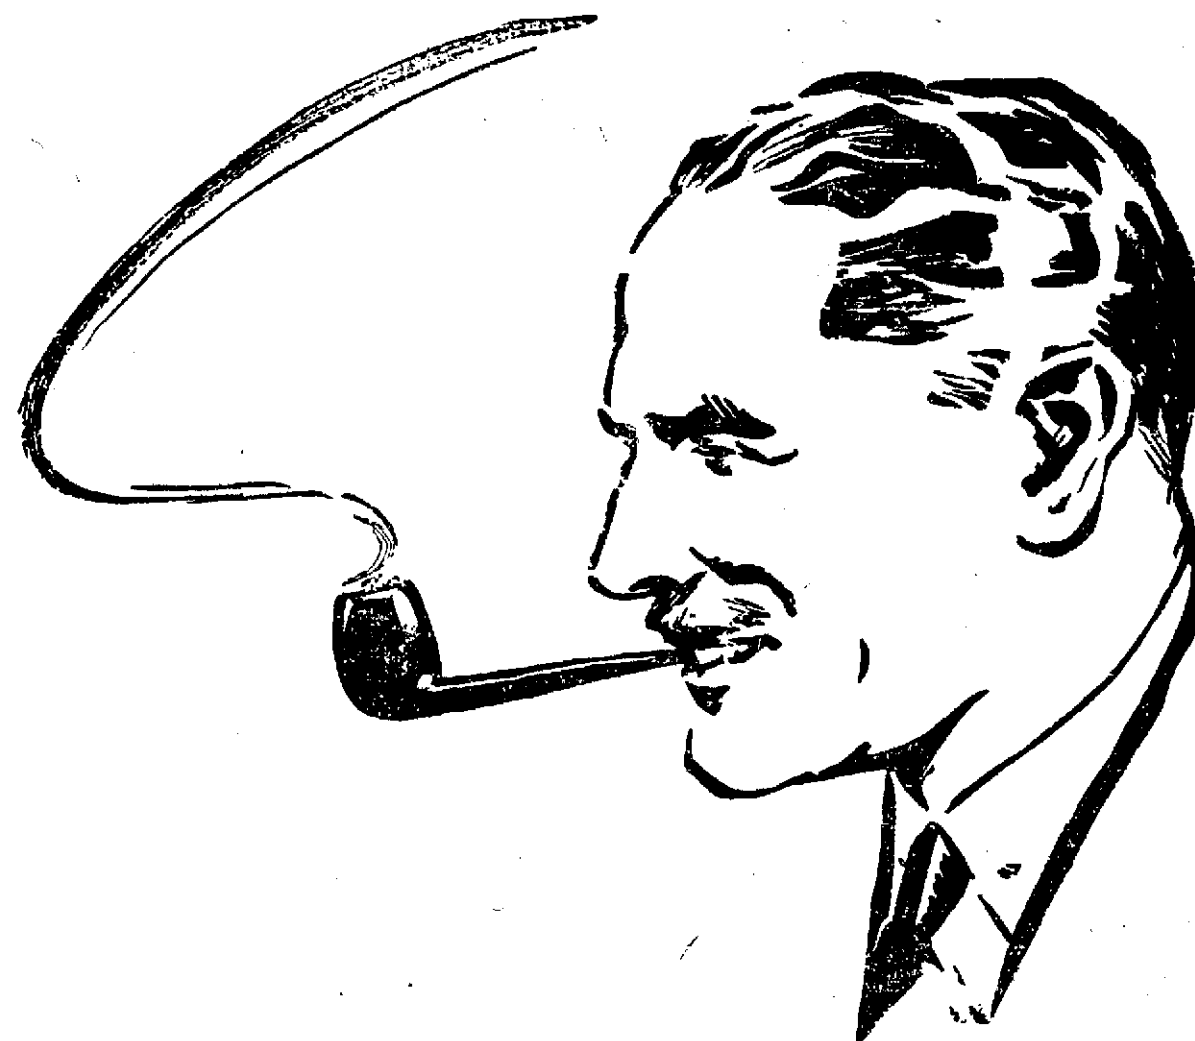

Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City, who Wednesday eliminated a strongly backed favorite, Helen Payson, Canadian and Bermuda champion Thursday faced Maureen Orcutt, defending titleholder, who won from Lillian Holland, New York.

Mrs. J. Laroque Anderson, New York and Virginia Wilson, Chicago, were the other quarter-finalists.

be a forfeit and from the Kaukauna Mulfords. In that case a playoff game probably will be held to decide the title.

The postponed game schedule which opens next Tuesday is printed above. Saturday night's games were to officially close the 1928 season but they were postponed so Tuesday's games ended the fireworks. The league banner will not be definitely decided until Tuesday evening, March 20, at which time the Fox River five plays its final game with the Mulfords and either ties for first with the Coateds or is forced to take second. There also still is a third-place fight between the Bankers and Weber Knits now virtually tied for the position. Each has two games to play, though the Banks are assured of one win as they receive a forfeit from the withdrawn Co. D. quint, and each plays the other in one of the games. The Webers meet the Mulfords in the other. Saturday's games were postponed because of the district Y. M. C. A. tourney at Green Bay, in which three local teams will take part.

P.A. and a pipe—that's all I ask

I DON'T mean that I am easily satisfied. As a matter of fact, I'm as critical as they come about smoking-tobacco. There are certain things I demand in a smoke, and I declare here and now that P.A. has 'em. Has 'em and to spare, if you ask me.

Fragrant as spring blossoms. Cool as "The boss wants to see you." Sweet as "I'm going to raise your pay." Mild and mellow and long-burning, with full satisfaction in every wonderful puff. It seems that there are not enough hours in a day to suit your Prince Albert program. You'll start in early and stay with it far into the night.

But all this conversation won't do you any good, unless you try out the tobacco itself. When it comes to speaking for itself, P.A. is the best little talker you ever listened to. Go get yourself a tidy red tin and get some of this pipe-joy I've been picturing.

More in quality, more in quantity—TWO full ounces in every tin.

PRINCE ALBERT

12 VIKING CAGERS AWARDED LETTERS

Basketball "L" Men Include Ten Sophs Who Will Return Next Year

Twelve members of Coach A. C. Denny's 1928 Lawrence college basketball team, the largest number of cagers to be rewarded in one season in Viking athletic history, received letters this week for their work during the season. In addition a letter was awarded to Student Manager Kermit Clark of Wild Rose. Of the men receiving letters ten are sophomores and will return for two more years of college competition, the largest number of second-year men ever to receive letters in one sport since the freshman rule became effective.

Letters were awarded to Urban Hummel, Menasha; Allan Hoffman, West Allis; Robert Rasmussen, Oconomowoc; Irving Jackola, Calumet, Mich.; Jerry Slavic, Elgin, Ill.; Harold Pierce, Menasha; Carl Voecks, Appleton; Gilbert St. Mitchell, Kaukauna; Frank Schneller, Neenah, and DeGoy Ellis, Elgin, Ill., all sophomores and heavy hitters. Antigo, a junior, and George Schlagenhauf, Beloit, a senior. Of the sophomores, the first four listed above are forwards, the following four are guards and the last pair are centers. Hilton is a center and Schlagenhauf a forward.

GOOD SHOWING

Lawrence's team of inexperienced sophomores, playing their first real collegiate basketball, made an especially commendable showing and prospects are bright for the next two years. The Vikings lost eight games and won six, just under 500, and finished fourth in the Midwest conference, composed of the strongest colleges of four states, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota and Illinois. The second-year team won five games and lost four in the Midwest taking two from Beloit and one from Hamline, Coe and Monmouth, the latter pair being title contenders at the time.

Losses were to Ripon's third place team, Carleton, the 1928 champion, and Cornell, another stellar squad which also beat Ripon and Carroll. Outside of the conference the Blue lost to Carroll twice, Marquette twice and beat Northwestern. Every loss was a close one except Carleton and against Carroll and Ripon the green Vikings outplayed their more experienced veterans most of the way, only to show their inexperience by losing in the final minutes when the vets let out a final spurt.

A captain for 1928 will be chosen at the basketball banquet at which the sweaters will be presented to the athletes, according to Coach Denny. This will be when the sweaters are ready, probably late next week, the Viking mentor said.

BADGER GRIDMEN GET MONTH'S SPRING WORK

Madison —Wisconsin's spring football practice will consist of four weeks of intensive drill, starting on April 11. Coach Glenn F. Thistlethwaite issued this announcement today.

"Our spring football this year will be a real varsity practice," stated Thistlethwaite. "The showing of the candidates next month will tell the whole story. The material will be thoroughly invigorated at that time and lined up at once for either the A or B squad."

Thistlethwaite's plans for the spring workout call for very little individual instruction. There will be plenty of real football, so that the weeding out may be accomplished now and not in September. The elimination will give the coaches a list of men to concentrate upon at the start of the fall practice.

Approximately seventy freshmen and sophomores are meeting twice weekly in the stock pavilion at the present time, where they are given instruction in fundamentals by the coaching staff. This, however, is in the nature of class work for credit in physical education.

Edwin Rudolph, of Chicago, former champion, was idle after winning his first game Tuesday.

APPLETON BOY STAR OF CARD GYM SQUAD

Dick Neller Wins Two Firsts, a Second, for Unbeaten Team

With Richard "Dick" Neller, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Neller, E. Washington, as one of its two all-around leading stars, the University of Wisconsin gymnastic team will travel to Chicago Saturday to compete in the 1928 Western Conference championship meet against the other nine schools of the loop and the Badgers will be a favorite to win. To date the Madison school has whipped Chicago, Minnesota, Purdue and Iowa in a row in dual meets without a defeat.

Should the Wisconsin team be able to bring back the championship, it will have succeeded in breaking up the monopoly that the Maroon has had in gymnastic supremacy for the past five years.

In a story of the recent meet with the Maroons the Appleton star is given great credit for his fine work which netted him two firsts and a second on the horizontal and parallel bars and rings. Here's the story:

An inspired Wisconsin gymnastic team scaled the heights Saturday the armory and turned back the invading Chicago squad 1221 to 1208, a margin of 12½ points.

The visitors though showing plenty of power, made countless errors at times when they needed pointage, while the Wisconsin team performed in its usual brilliant style to lead all the way.

It has been several years since a Cardinal gymnastic team has defeat-

LEGION QUINTET WINS FROM TWELVE CORNERS

The American Legion basketball team took the scalp of Bill Meltz's Twelve Corners quintet Monday evening at Armory G, winning by a 30-24 count. Both squads played good ball and the Cornersmen led until a final desperate Legion rally in the last quarter. At the first quarter the score was 4-1 for the visitors at the half, 9-7 and at the third quarter, 20-19. Nineteen fouls were called on the winners and six on the losers.

Bauers and L. Christen led the Appleton team to victory with four baskets each, and the former added a free throw. C. Christen added three ringers, Gresenz two and a free try ed Chicago in this sport, but the men did it, and at the same time administered the first defeat that Chicago has suffered in their last two seasons.

Taking the lead by winning the first event, the determined Wisconsin team added to their advantage in the following three events, and then lost the last two by a small margin.

DON, DICK STAR
Capt. Don Hinderliter and Richard Neller were again the big stars for Wisconsin. Hinderliter took a first upon the rings, a second in tumbling, and a third on the horizontal bar, while Neller was annexing firsts on the horizontal and parallel bars and a second upon the rings.

Credit must be given to Martin Brill, side horse and club swinging worker. Brill took a second upon the side horse, and in the last event, club swinging, he held his opponent, a conference champion to the bare margin of a five point advantage.

The Four-wheel brakes used on the Essex Super-Six are the same type used on costliest cars and assure the maximum brake safety, as well as the softness of control that you associate only with high priced cars. They are truly the costly car way Essex is built throughout—and out, by this detail by detail, inside and out, by comparison first with costly cars—and then with cars in the Essex-price class.

The Essex Super-Six high-compression motor is patented and exclusive, and is so far as we know the most powerful and efficient motor of its size in the world.

The beautiful Essex instrument board is of ebony finish, grouping under indirect light, motorometer, gasoline gauge, oil gauge, speedometer and ammeter. Compare it with the costly car instrument boards — which it is like — and with instrument boards in its price class — which it is decidedly unlike.

Tires on the new Essex Super-Six are extra large—30" x 5"—their ample size not only aiding in roadability and long tire life, but adding to the riding ease for which Essex is famous.

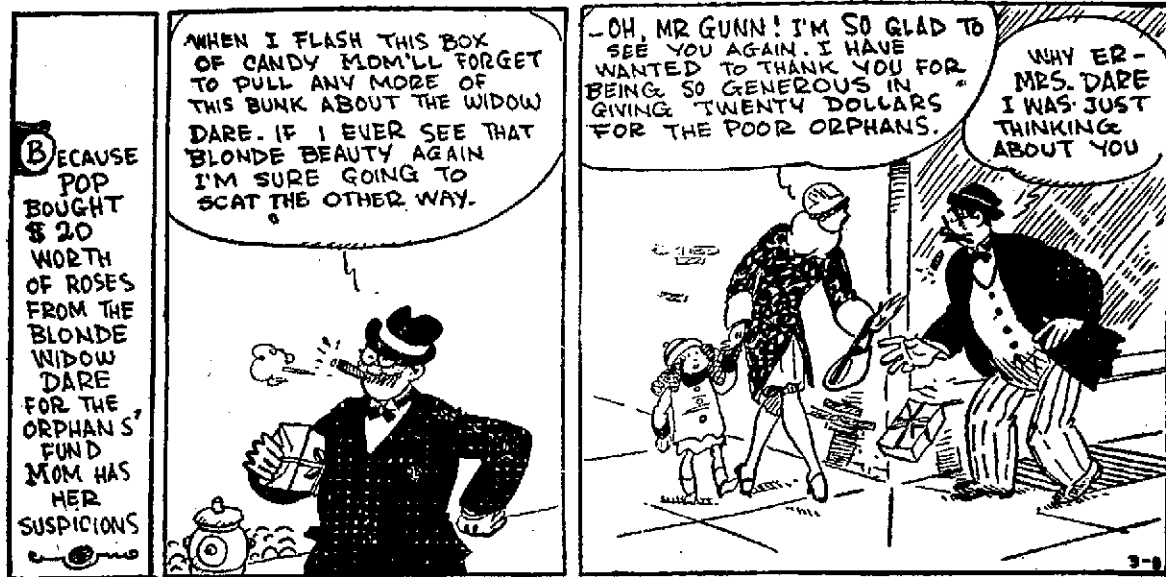

In this, and such things as the black-rubber, steel-core, finger-scaled steering wheel, the worm and tooth vertical steering mechanism and the visibly duplicates costly car practices, as it does also in the hidden things you never see, except in its care-free operation.

Manatees

The Greeks wrote of sea sirens whose songs lured men to destruction. Today we know what those sirens were. Without doubt the sirens and mermaids of which ancient poets sang were plump sea-cows, manatees and dugongs, as innocent as they are ugly, and utterly unromantic. Long, long ago these Sirenia, as they are known, were land animals who went to live in the waters.

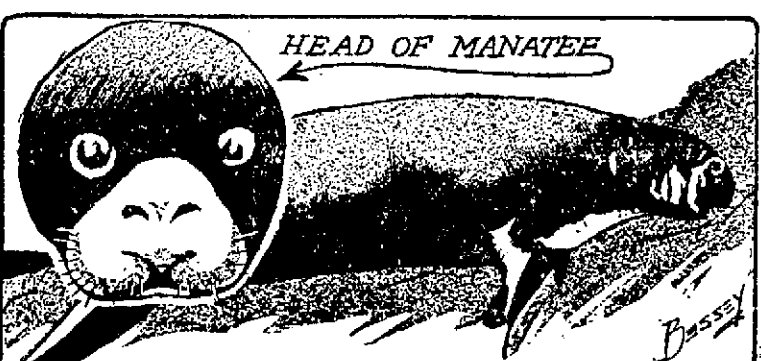

By NEA, Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-26.

Mothers of this tribe, when suckling their young, clasp the little ones to their breasts, rising their heads well out of water.

This attitude suggested a human creature in the sea to old-time sailors and stimulated the imaginations of writers of folk-lore.

The old Spanish explorers saw the lumbering manatee in the Amazon and other rivers, and were horrified. Yet the manatee, pictured above, is as harmless as a sheep, and its teeth are not meant for combat. Their tameness and inactivity make them easy prey to greedy men, so the tribe is vanishing from the world like the hapless dodo. (To Be Continued)

WOMEN PREPARE FOR DISPLAY OF RELICS AT NEW LONDON SHOW

Time Extended One Day Because of Amount of Interest Being Shown

Special to Post-Crescent

New London — Plans are shaping themselves for the three day arts and crafts exhibit planned for next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The time has been extended because of the interest shown and also because so much preparation is necessary to bring about the event. Committee members of both departments, the antiques and the hand work, are more than jubilant over the prospect of the exhibit, for proffers of relics and handicraft have been made by people from all parts of the community. Work of collecting the material and placing it will begin Sunday before the doors are opened on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. E. C. Jost, chairman of the hand work department, has stated that she believes the event will be thoroughly successful. She has already received boxes of beautiful pieces and has found women everywhere interested and generous. Fancy work, including cutwork, fine embroidery, patchwork, sets of various kinds, all manner of beautiful rug work, lace making and quilts will be shown and the antiques are of interest everywhere. Women in all social groups talk of the pieces they mean to show and the historical value alone is bound to be of inestimable good.

It is almost beyond belief to find what the community has been able to find in the way of antique relics linking the present with early days when treasures were brought from the east in the meager baggage of the pioneers and the fine pieces which have weathered the storms tell plainly the story of immigrants who braved the strange newness of America from Ireland, England, Denmark and Germany.

The ladies of the league wish to impress upon the contributors that the city hall in which the exhibit is to be held will be carefully guarded throughout the three day display and that a tabulated list in duplicate form will be kept showing that each piece is accounted for. A watchman will be on guard every night and glass show cases will guard against loss of small pieces, such as jewelry, china and other small pieces. Cards will be posted warning against handling of pieces. Monday afternoon will be open to the public. Monday evening's event will be for league members only and there will be a short program, including musical numbers and papers prepared on interesting subjects pertinent to the event. Tuesday and Wednesday will be open days to the entire community. Invitations have been issued in a general way to all women from neighboring cities.

NEW LONDON CAGERS TAKE 2 GAMES FROM HORTONVILLE TEAMS

First and Second Teams Both Score Victories in Matches Wednesday Night

New London — Playing a preliminary game at Hortonville Wednesday night, New London high school's second team had a walk away with Hortonville's second team, trouncing them 25 to 0. In the main game, Hortonville's first team lost to the New London regulars 16 to 9. Maahs, Hortonville forward, again starred for his team while the local team seemed content to play on the defensive with the whole team playing a fast game. Hortonville's shooting was erratic and the Red and White also missed some easy shots under the basket. It is expected that the coming Friday night game with Marion high school will call forth more exertion on the part of the home boys in order to bring home a victory.

Hortonville saw action for a few minutes in the last quarter, Werner and Seims going out. It is reported that Becker, one of the regulars, will be unable to play any more games this year due to illness. His absence will be felt at the Shavano tournament in which the high school team is entered.

Hortonville secured the first counter when Maahs located the basket. Griswold tied the score with a short shot from beneath the basket. Hortonville added another pointer on a foul after which Maahs again made a basket. Kische went out. Seims took his place. Sweeney and Edmister each added a point on fouls and Griswold, on a hard shot, added another field goal. The half ended with Werner making a free throw, bringing the score 7 to 5.

In the second half, New London again made a pretty basket when Werner made a short shot to Griswold.

Sweeney, who had been guarded closely all evening, got away for a long dribble and made an easy basket. Hortonville's center made a long shot. Sweeney added a point on a foul. Sweeney, in the last quarter, again dribbled through the Hortonville team. Maahs gave his team another point on a foul. In a mixup near the center of the floor, Sweeney stole the ball from his guard and made a basket from the side of the floor. Hortonville, when fouled, made their point by hitting the score to 16 to 9 with the Red and White on the long end.

Boys and Girls made Strong in Two Weeks!

It is what they eat—and how it agrees—that has most to do with the sturdy growth of youngsters. Fruits are fine; apples, dates or figs. But don't ask them to eat more of these than is their natural inclination. For the same wonderful aid is found in California fig syrup—and no child has ever tired of that! Once start this daily treat, and any child will always remind you of it. You'll see sure digestion, and a general quickening of energies. This rich, fruity liver and bowels. Its quiet persuasion is all that chronic constipation calls for, tonic in its action on the young system. More spoonful of fig syrup; in a few days you will see a clear-eyed and care-free child whose tongue doesn't coat, and whose mind and body are not slowed by sour bile or any other accumulations. It is much the same with a bilious baby; no harm, but only good can come from fig syrup even though given to the tiniest infant. So don't use harsh cathartics, even though the children apparently suffer no ill effects. A spoonful of delicious fig syrup is far better. But the genuine California fig syrup is the kind to buy, and if you always say "California" and look for it on the generous sixty-cent bottle, you'll get the pure product.

COMPANY POLICEMEN AND COURTS OPPRESS UNION COAL MINERS

Senator Gooding Declares
"Strong Arm" Men Do Not Know Where Powers End

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of three articles by Senator Frank R. Gooding of Idaho telling about conditions in the coal strike region of Pennsylvania. A Senate Committee, headed by Gooding recently made a tour of this section.

BY SENATOR FRANK R. GOODING
Washington — Hand in hand, the brutality of coal company police and abuse of power by certain courts have gone together to oppress union miners in Pennsylvania. The reports that one judge had prohibited by injunction even the singing of hymns in a churchyard at Rosalia was almost unbelievable. Yet we found it to be true. As far as we could determine everything about the hymn singers, even though it carried on while strikebreakers were going to work in the mines had been orderly and peaceful.

These miners and their families had been singing hymns such as "Stand Up For Jesus" and "Onward Christian Soldiers."

COULD NOT ADVISE
The union had also been enjoined from advertising in the newspapers and even from peaceful picketing. One bad phase of the situation is that United States postoffices are sometimes on coal company land. This has led to trouble when miners have gone peacefully to get their mail.

We found one farmer, in fact, who had been cruelly beaten by coal and iron police.

It is clearly a mistake to have postoffices on coal company land. Although the coal companies made little attempt to excuse the actions of their coal and iron police, they did undertake to show us that workers were generally living under ideal conditions.

They didn't succeed. For instance, Mr. J. D. A. Morrow, president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, took us for many miles past other of the company's mines to show us what apparently was supposed to be a model mining community. First we decided to sample one of the homes there without guidance from Mr. Morrow. Inside we found extremely poor conditions. One child had no shoes and stockings. Being unable to go to school, she had been threatened with arrest by a truant officer. Other children in the family were ragged and the mother told us that although her husband made $4.08 a day, the company store kept all her necessities. Prices charged by this store kept her from getting clothes for her children, she said.

Then a coal official showed us a "sample home." Here we found good furniture, an electric washing machine and modern conveniences. It was a fine little home. The woman in the house said her husband made $7.35 a day in the mines, that it was plenty and that she was happy and satisfied.

Questioning by the committee, however, developed the fact that this was not her home but that of the company physician. She was his housekeeper.

The committee was especially surprised by the attitude of operators, superintendents, coal and iron policemen and even of the judge who granted the anti-singing injunction. The

Should Have $30 A Week To Wed, Economist Says

Denver, Colo.—(AP)—Unless you have $300 in the bank and an income of $30 a week, don't get married, advises G. A. Warfield, dean of the University of Denver school of commerce.

An income of $30 a week, the economist believes, is just enough to "get by" on, but there must be a prospect of increasing this amount.

"When the wife must go out in the business world in order to help her husband support their family, motherhood is defeated," he declares.

In no instance does he advise marriage unless there is a savings account employers became indignant when we ventured to offer criticisms.

Officers of the coal and iron police seemed not to know where their authority began or where it ended. They seemed to think it was limitless. According to union men and their wives, they had put this theory into practice.

CAUSED DEATH
One town constable told us that whenever he went on mine company property to serve a warrant or investigate a disturbance he was driven off by these private police. His wife told us that the company police had invaded her home, broken a staircase and caused so great a disturbance as to cause the subsequent death of her aged father.

From Joe Lubeski, an old miner we heard the story of a death alleged by the miners to have been caused by coal company eviction policies. His wife died of pneumonia after they had been forced from sickness in mid-December and ordered to vacate their company house. Both sick, they had to move their meager furniture and enter union barracks without heat or food.

TOMORROW: The threat against organized labor and industrial property is described by Senator Gooding.

of $300, an amount not to be spent just because marriage has at last been attained, but to be kept as a nest egg against emergencies.

"A couple must have this nest egg. With not a dollar ahead, a person is a slave to money worries, and love will not easily survive slavery. Many young folks marry and depend on falling back on the old folks. I need be. This is cowardly. Marriage is a challenge they had better recognize and leave alone."

"Newlyweds should not demand so much. They want a car, a luxurious apartment, theatre tickets and fur coats. All this requires a large income. So they both work and forgo the happiness of marriage life to save for these luxuries that are not so important. If they wait to marry until they can afford these things they are doing an unnatural thing. Postponement of marriage lessens the possibility of happiness."

Dean Warfield believes that at the oldest a man should not be more than 27 and a woman not more than 24 to insure happiness in marriage.

"Marrying young and striving to achieve together forms a comradeship in accomplishment that is stronger than waiting three or four years until the income is $50 or $60 a week."

When the male of a certain kind of angler fish goes courting he seizes the female with his mouth and becomes a "hanger on" for the rest of his life, his lips fuse to the skin of the female and the two really become "one" till death.

4,011 PATIENTS IN HOSPITAL HERE IN YEAR JUST ENDED

Only 33 Sufferers at Hospital Failed to Show Improvement, Report Says

Exactly 4,011 patients were cared for at St. Elizabeth hospital in 1927, according to the annual report recently made out by hospital authorities. Sixty-seven patients were in the hospital on Jan. 1, 1927.

The report listed 804 as cured patients, 1901 as improved and 113 as recovered. During the year only 33 were unimproved. There were 134 deaths, according to the report.

Four hundred twelve cases were cared for in the maternity hospital which has accommodations for 60 patients at a time and 420 children were born. This department is intimately associated with the general hospital, the patients receiving the advantage of the most advanced knowledge obtainable from the laboratories within the hospital.

A total of 2,415 operations were performed in 1927, there were 227 x-rays and 279 x-ray treatments. Twenty-seven years of service have been given the public by St. Elizabeth hospital. Until the completion of the new hospital the amount of service given was necessarily limited due to lack of accommodations.

The aim of the hospital, at the present time is to care for patients who have sustained accidental injuries and those suffering from acute and sub-acute diseases. By doing this, urgent cases may be taken care of and hospital confinement for each patient be limited. It is not the purpose of the hospital to care for patients suffering from chronic diseases, except for a limited period of time, for the number of rooms will not permit the maintenance of a department for prolonged convalescence.

The laboratories of the hospital consist of a complete x-ray department, serological, bacteriological and pathological departments, basal metabolism department, electrotherapy department and diet kitchens under the supervision of two trained dietitians. All of these combine to offer a technical knowledge and assistance for the proper and scientific care of the sick.

All of these combine to offer a technical knowledge and assistance for the proper and scientific care of the sick.

The culinary department of the hospital is especially worthy of attention. Every variety of bread is made and baked in the hospital bakeries and several hundred gallons of vegetables of every kind are put up by the cold pack process. Ham, bacon and dried beef are cured. The diet kitchens on each floor have the latest type of heating tables and the service is most efficient.

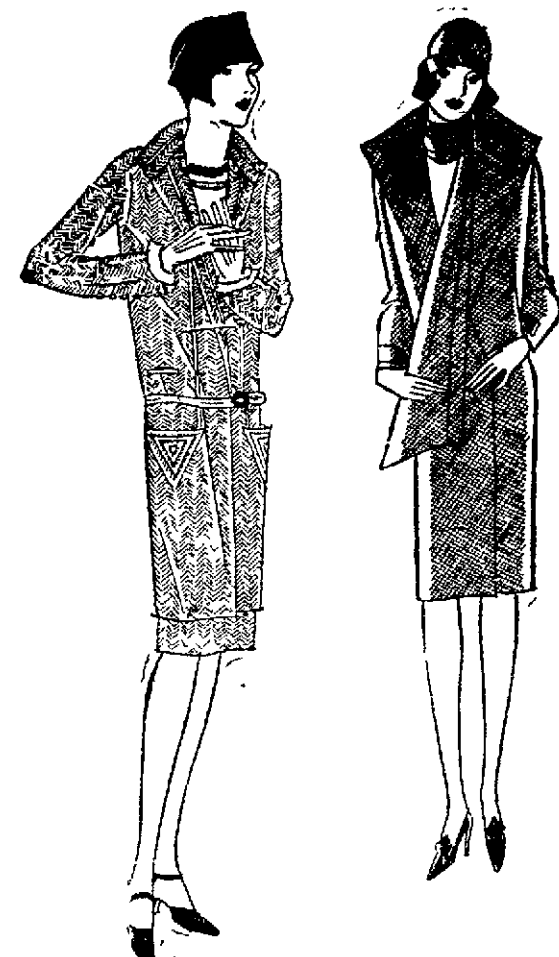

The advisability of constructing a heliotherapy room is now under consideration. Heliotherapy has become an essential feature in modern treatment.

Many rooms at the present time are being used for housing Sisters and lay nurses but a separate building will soon be necessary. The establishment of such a building would increase the number of rooms for patients.

St. Elizabeth club was organized about 6 years ago with the purpose of raising a fund of $12,000 to endow a free bed. During the time the fund was being created, the hospital authorities entered into an agreement with the club to maintain a free bed. The object of St. Elizabeth club will soon be accomplished, for the final payment on the $12,000 fund will be made within a few weeks.

The report for the year 1927 shows 20,245 paid nursing days, 2,499 charity nursing days and 2,611 part paid nursing days.

The New Fashion of Coats Without Fur

The new spring fashion of coats without fur appeals to the woman who wants her coat to do double duty as a separate coat and as part of an ensemble. Combined with a frock in the same shade, the spring coat makes a smart ensemble. Worn with other frocks, it is a chic top coat.

Brazeena, kasha, brushed wool and angora homespun in tan, navy and black fashion the newest spring coats and the trimming is especially smart because of its simplicity. A bit of unusual stitching, a brilliant scarf, a clever treatment of the sleeve give these coats a distinctive quality.
